THE BLUE BOOK

PUBLISHED BY THE
SENIOR CLASS
BROOKLYN PREP

FTER careful consideration of the subject matter for a theme, none better could be found than to show in words and pictures just exactly what goes on at Prep. It is hoped that in this theme, the reader will realize that what transpires during the day, while it may at first seem routine, nevertheless it is a cog in the system which helps to produce ideal Catholic, American Gentlemen.

In the classroom the Prepster is taught to recognize things at their true value, to respect the rights of others, and consequently to be better fitted to take his place in society as a true gentleman. Through the medium of the Student Council, he is taught the principles of self-government in practice. Through the extra-curricular activities he learns the true relationship of one man to another—in other words he discovers the American Way. Sodality and other religious activities, together with the ever present Christ in the Chapel, augmented by the unequalled Religion Course, all unite to make him a leader in Catholic Action.

E, the members of the 1942 Class of Brooklyn Preparatory, hereby dedicate our year book to Rev. James P. McGrail, S.J., and to Mr. Francis Foley.

To Fr. McGrail, our Student Counsellor, we owe countless thanks for his advice and guidance in matters both spiritual and temporal. He has truly been a most capable substitute for our parents during our time at Prep.

Mr. Foley, an instructor in Physics and Mathematics, was in truth, our friend. All his pupils were proud to say that they were in his class. Probably the saddest blow which we received in our four years was the tragic news of Mr. Foley's sudden accident. There were many prayers said by us and by all the former members of his classes. We make this dedication as a means of showing him our appreciation and also our sorrow at the misfortune that befell him.

REVEREND JAMES P. McGRAIL, S.J.

Friend and Advisor

HE SENIOR CLASS of 1942 wishes to express its sincerest appreciation to the following group of men. They are the teachers who for four years have guided our scholastic efforts, and while so doing have given all their time and labor to our advancement in the field of knowledge. Gladly have they imparted their wisdom to us so that we in turn might achieve the ideal of Catholic American manhood. Mere words can not express all they have done for us. It will suffice to say that in future years, whatever success we may attain will be due to a great extent to the wholehearted assistance which they, the faculty of Brooklyn Prep, have given us.

PREP'S ROLL OF HONOR

WILLIAM J. McMAHON

One time head coach and teacher of Math at Prep, has entered the Armed Services as a petty officer in the United States Coast Guard.

TIMOTHY J. MURPHY

Assistant coach and teacher of History, left Prep to join the Navy.

GEORGE HAMBRECHT

Assistant coach and formerly aide-de-campe of Father Engel, was inducted into the Army of the United States at the end of the 1941 school year. As we go to press, he has just been commissioned as a Second Lieutenant.

JAMES DOBBINS

Coach of track, and, with Mr. Hambrecht, a graduate of Prep, was inducted in the Armed Services at the end of last year.

N the following pages you will meet a representative group of Brooklyn Prep men. It is difficult to record their many achievements in a few pages. As their four years draw to a close, these graduates see ahead of them their path of life darkened by the clouds of war. Nevertheless, they go forth undaunted because they have been well equipped with the tools necessary to combat the problems of life. Mingled emotions of joy and sorrow fill them—joy at the prospect of graduation, and sorrow at the thought of leaving the scene of so many well spent days. And so we present for your approval these men, the products of Jesuit education, the class of '42.

been Prefects—the honor was not overwhelming (it never appeared in the newspapers)—but it was an important job. They did it well.

9:00 A.M. The first class begins. Nine A.M. means Nine A.M., not 9:01. Joe Wiseman is in his element translating some difficult lines almost too literally. Francis MacCauley, if necessity demands it, can also give some literal translations. Miller and Polglase—ah—are more interested in doing the greatest amount of shining with the least amount of effort. There were the long minutes when we tried to translate words which made not the slightest sense and the class hummed with suggestions, good and bad.

Second Period (9:54 A.M.) The Sciences would be our lot; most of us sat and watched, fearing to open our humble mouths. The minority would go to Greek class where the difficulties in discovering Homer's heroes would almost overwhelm us.

Recess (10:38 A.M.) For many a long year, our destination was determined by our individual tastes. Came the Senior Lounge and it was possible to relax as well as smoke. That Senior Lounge brings up a point: a few of the fellows did more than their share in making it possible—Bill Grace scrubbed walls and painted ceilings to the breaking point; Kopke and Welsh sang while they worked (Bill Welsh insisted upon staying close to a wall upon which he might fall).

Third Period (10:57 A.M.) Religion Class. Rossano always had "the" question of the week. In the four years we've had our open forums, in and out of religion classes—these have been the greatest help—in them we often found our ideas.

Fourth Period (11:43 A.M.) English. Even "Tiny" found it hard to explain the Book Report about the book he hadn't read. The beautiful often bored us; and yet we came close to enjoying the processes by which man may reason correctly. We had come to the stage where we could appreciate and begin to use such subtleties.

John Lyden won the Medal for the Best Actor not only this year, but also in our second year at Prep. He is pictured above in one of his starring roles.

Lunch Period (12:27 P.M.)

There was the favorite table in the cafeteria in which we would air our latest complaint with the skill of experts. We were always right, even when we knocked someone else's milk into his lap. So right, that we would beat a hasty retreat to the Library and remain there until the "crisis" was reached. In this case, the "crisis" was the point where Dr. FitzGerald wouldn't stand any more noise and we couldn't stand any more silence. Then to the field to watch Hugh McMonigle catch the winning pass in the intramural football championship. Another bell and we are on our way back to class.

Fifth Period (1:05 P.M.) We divide our attention between French and German. Our pronunciation in most cases succeeded only in giving us an idea of what the languages didn't sound like. There would be open discussions and grammar and blue book tests—but it did end.

Sixth Period (1:51 P.M.) History Class or "P.T."; in History Bob Dolan and Jim D'Amato exchange ideas on every subject under the sun. In "P.T." we would go through a short routine and spend the rest of our time using the various facilities at Prep.

Thus, in one way, the day ended. For the vast majority the 2:35 bell was merely the beginning. George Strype, alias John Gutenberg, goes into hiding with his printing press. The propaganda which spread from his office was endless and ineffective. Jim D'Amato takes over the Student Council—now was the hour for him to make formal speeches; all day long was just a warm-up; John O'Hara, the Secretary, takes notes. John Lyden (Gold Medal Winner for Acting), Walter Strang and Tom Murphy all go to Play practice. Speaking of great Thespians, no list would be complete without mentioning Bob Beal, Walter Miller and Francis MacCauley, who were in that mob scene which made the play in 1940. On the field are many of Prep's athletes: the football team with co-captains "Butch" Dolan and "Tiny" Tynion, Will Welsh, Gene Boylan, Dave McCauley, Herb Kopke, Bill Polglase and Jim Chellis. In past years, the hockey season found Kopke, Lyden and Polglase out on the ice for Prep.

Darkness spreads over Prep, and the shadows rushing to the various subways are the men of '42 ending a long day. At home in the evening, some of us every evening, and all of us upon certain evenings, prepare for the work of the next day. As this work prepared us for the next school day, so have the days at Prep prepared us for the great work which lies ahead of us.

Many of us made the Retreat at Morristown, under the guiding hand of Father Kennedy, S.J., it was one of the most memorable experiences of our four years.

To those of us who approached from Rogers Avenue, this was the sight of Prep which invariably struck our eyes. Rain would change it, and winter—to say nothing of the way our mind's eye changed it as we approached on examination days.

JUNE CLASS HISTORY

All good things must come to an end. Here is another case where this axiom is true. We, the Senior Class of 1942, have reached our goal, but somehow or other we do not seem to be looking so avidly to that goal as we did through the past four years. No, instead we rather regret the fact that we did not spend our time here more profitably and did not take advantage of all the opportunities offered us by the School. However, the fact remains that the time has come to say "adieu" to these hallowed halls and rooms.

After thinking over the different ways to present this history to you, we have decided that it would be best to take the reader on an imaginary itinerary with the boys of the Prep. First of all we must think of the different ways of transportation which carry the foster sons of Brooklyn Prep here every day. We will take for example the Rogers Avenue trolley. We have an average of sixty men traveling by this rapid conveyance every weekday. At eightforty, one can see a very tired crowd laboriously trying to trot up the day's assignment in the Aeneid. There is always a slight murmur of unrest when the Girls' Commercial students enter at Church Avenue, but that soon gives way to the typical silence. Now these men are at the Prep, where they prepare themselves in various ways for the day's schooling. Some work on the Library Staff and there they attempt to dust the shelves and collect fines for overdue books. Many are employed in the Cafeteria and other sundry tasks, but the majority merely hang around and discuss the latest developments in the political and economical world. Trifling things like baseball games are never allowed to share in these weighty talks.

Soon the eighty-fifty bell is sounded and then the mad rush to the lockers begins. Books are collected and doors are slammed and now, in contrast to the former haste, the slow walk to the classroom begins. Now the crowd sits complacently waiting for the next bell which will send them rushing madly through pages of deep and weighty tomes which must be perused by these individuals according to the rules laid down by the officials. Thank goodness, we have that type of individual who can make a serious class smile with a well timed remark. And so go the morning sessions until we reach twelve twenty-seven, the time for all good students to satisfy the cravings of their stomachs with some well chosen food. Then comes the afternoon with its classes which seem to drag by in unending monotony until the final bell. Then you can really see what distinguishes Brooklyn Prep students from those of other schools. The fact is this: Brooklyn Prep offers the boy all the necessary activities which tend to make him a good citizen, a good neighbor, and a good Catholic. I will quickly run through those activities which are most appealing to the students. First of all, we have the Sodality, the main religious activity in the Prep. Secondly, the Student Council which calls forth the future diplomats and politicians. In this activity, the boys literally run the school, deciding on what they want done or what they don't want done. Another important activity is the Debating Club which has done much for the school in bringing it to the public eye.

Jack Winters and Charlie Holm were among the outstanding athletes of our year. But we cannot mention athletes without recalling Hodson's work upon the gridiron, McCurdy's ability on the diamond and in the pool, Larkin in football, and Costigan in baseball and football.

Regan, Soukup and Fagan starred in the first Mock Trial ever offered at Prep. This was in our Junior Year; the year that we acquitted Lizzie Borden. Regan went on to bring new honors to himself and Prep by winning the American Legion Oratorical contest, first for Kings County, and, as we go to Press, for this District.

This particular society has won many medals, trophies and cups which are now resting majestically in the trophy case outside Fr. Klocke's office. Last but not least we have athletics, which serve the purpose of turning boys into fine, healthy men. The Prep's teams always seem to turn out the most popular boys within the school walls.

That seems to be pretty much of a comprehensive picture of the Prep and its activities, so perhaps it would be best to include the names of those in our class who have taken an active part in these various activities.

In the Sodality, we had as officers, John Mulcahy and Harry Oppido while we also had about a fifty man attendance at every meeting. In the Student Council, Dick McCurdy was the president and he guided the doings of that august body with his usual skill and tact. In debating, we are represented by Peter Regan, who has won many cups and medals both for himself and for the school. And now we come to that field in which we really shine. In athletics, we have Gerry Walters, Ed Hiltbrand, Jack Winters, Leo Larkin, Dan Costigan, the afore-mentioned Dick McCurdy, Frank Brickfield, Bob Hodson, Bob Bishop, Bernie and Bud McCarthy, Charlie Holm, Ted Fenn and many others, too numerous to mention here. All in all, it has been a very fine class.

We have tried to give you, the reader, a bird's eye view of the Prep and at the same time to instill in you some of the deep love which we, the students, hold for it. We leave now hoping that you will continue to admire, as others have done, the American, the Catholic, the Man—turned out by Prep.

HESE illustrious looking men are the undergraduates.

Contrary to the opinion of the average Senior, they are the ones who form the integral part of a High School. Before them lies a period of a few more years of companionship, during which they will continue to develop their bodies and minds and broaden their contacts so as to be well fitted to take their places in society. It is from the ranks of these classes that the extra-curricular activities receive their greatest support. When the present class has graduated they will continue on with the heritage which has been handed down to them. Since they will be under the tutelage of fine teachers, their lot has been and will continue to be a very happy and prosperous one.

February Class 1943

Fourth row: Golden, Giery, Casey, McLean, Smith, Menendez, Hogan.

The story of a class should be the story of its achievements: the history of what at has done and is doing for the school. 4A has been notable when it comes to activity and service. The Student Council has Greg Schaefer as its vice-president and Lawless, Reilly and DePeter are our "able" representatives there. Many are active in the Sodality of which Schaefer is the vice-prefect. Hart and Reilly are our own "ham actors" and debaters, and Hogan and Slottman are librariains, while "talkative" Saunders is on the Blue Book staff, and Hogan and Casey are on the Blue Jug. When it comes to sports we certainly can't be found wanting. McLean, DePeter, Golden, Schaefer and Durham contributed in the way of football. Giery and Lawless are the swimmers, while Blehl and Reynolds have been leaders in baseball. We've done things for three years and we're still achieving things for the school.

That is the picture, the story of our achievement which in the years have grown greatly in number and importance. Our fellows are looking forward to graduation and yet in their more serious moodsand these moods are more frequent now-the student begins to regret his anticipated departure from the Prep.

Hail to a truly representative class, 3B1. For three and a half years this assemblage of students has been outstanding in all fields. Take anything and you'll find a 3B wonder foremost. Here we go on closeups of its 24 members. Starting first is Howie Mararro, the beadle, a consistent scholar: Frank Sweeney, gridironer; then hop a battered desk to Vin Carroll, one man track team; followed by Tim Cronin, harrier; and blond pated "Aussie Stanley," one of the boys. Lead off man for aisle 2 is Jim Petri, athlete extraordinaire. Then Bill Carney of diamond fame and Tom Lannon, Sodalist and "Lt. Becker." The third row beginner is Jim Di Giacomo, first honor boy, Blue Jug editor and Sodalist, then Jim Mc-Mahon, genius and debater, Art "Spollen," a basketeer and philanthropist; Jack Callery, our thespian, and "Jawn" O'Toole, mock trialer. In the fourth lane are Bob Aylward, ace hoopster and student; Dick Larson, Sodalist and scholar; Ken Von Glahn, the "brain"; "Hoib" McCooey, Sodalist and basketballer; Bob Phillips, Blue Jug sports editor and Dick Cronin, sports personified. In the last row sit Hugo Masini, wizard and debater; Jimmy Donlan, with good marks; "Fordham" Phil Termini and "Abee" Golden, top notch basketeer. What a line-up!

Fourth row: Valentine, Sheridan, Giffuni, Geoghan, Lee, Rayner, McGonigle.

Tempus surely did fugit faster than we thought was possible in the past three years, because now the senior lounge is just around the corner, and it seems but yesterday that we were "freshies."

Brains and brawn usually don't go together, but we are the exception that makes the rule more binding. In the muscle department we have "Si" Geoghan and "Nails" McGonigle; and "Clucker" Valentine on the basketball court. We have our own "Cooky" Lavegetto in little Johnny Amato. Our one block of granite is "Jake" Squillace, and our "galloping ghosts" are "Red" Scanlon and "Clucker" Valentine.

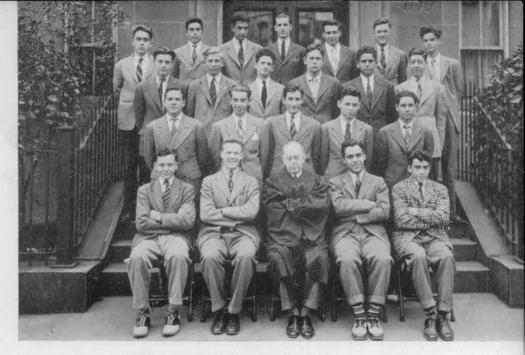

In the brains department there are our chemists, Sheridan, Giffuni, and "Jake" Weber. In front of the footlights we have Bob hopes-he's-good (and he is) Shields, and "Orson Welles" Edwards. The pro-and-con boy of the class is Big Ed Rayner. On the board and cinders we number Harry "The Red" Scanlon; Jim McAllister and Big Ed Rayner. The "drape" goal tender of Prep's erstwhile hockey team is our own "Sleepy" Matt Quealy.

Also, we're not lacking in our spiritual devotions inasmuch as our K.B.S. attendance is large and our fidelity to Sodality, Minute-Men, and Guard of Honor is well above average.

Here we are ending another term and we are all preparing to enter our Senior Year. A noteworthy event to be sure, but nevertheless a sad one. Our life at Prep has been an exciting and profitable one. We have been gifted with good teachers all along and most important of all, an interesting and active class, the members of which have taken part in many of the activities during their three years in these hallowed halls. These boys have done too many things to mention in this small amount of space, so we will only mention the more prominent activities.

One of the finest members of our track team is Edward Badeau, ably accompanied in the same sport by Charlie Cherry, who also acted in the Radio Play. Our candidates for the football team are McHale, Fred Quell and Theus Shiel. Bob Gorra is the representative on the baseball team and Quell again is a prominent performer in this sport. Our social lights are Bob Goubeaud who is also an equestrian and Bob Ayling who was also a member of the track team. Frank Glover is our honor student and Bob Verhaaren is the Captain of the R.O.T.C. Lynch is the class comedian and he certainly can pep up those sultry summer afternoons. All in all, putting these qualifications and activities together, you certainly have a representative and efficient class.

February

Fourth row: Kinn, Klauberg, McGovern, Lutz, Mahoney, Prendergast, Dolan.

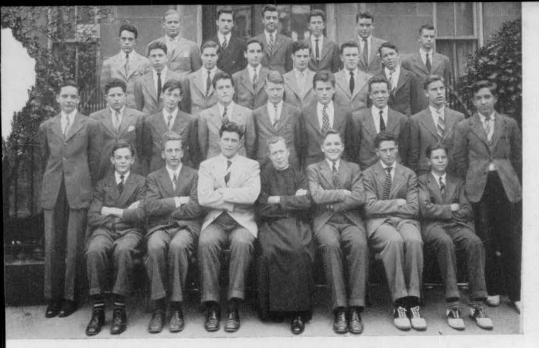

Near the beginning of 1940 our class was formed as the 1A1 of Brooklyn Prep. That was over two years ago, but the time has passed so quickly that it seems as though it were yesterday. We were not exceptionally bright, nor altogether dumb; we were just ordinary.

This term we find our class well represented in the sports and extra-curricular activities of Prep. Mahoney and McCurdy are already on the varsity basketball team and show great promise of being stars. Klauberg and Mahoney deserve mention for their exploits on the gridiron. Stader and Krohn are valuable assets on the year book staff. Our class is represented in the student council by our president, Edward Timmes; our vice-president, Peter Brancato and by Lutz.

Spring is here and with the usual results. But however tempting may be our dreams of wandering through carefree fields in the balmy sunshine, stern duty and our wholesome respect for the coming finals, hold us to our books. At last the tests will be passed (we hope) and with mingled feelings of regret and anticipation, we leave Prep for a time, and depart on our various parts to what we are sure will be a happy summer vacation.

February Class of 1944

Third row: Leary, Maher, Sheehan, Wallace, Hamilton, Kelly.
Fourth row: McTiernan, DeGroot, Wallen, Guinness, Kemether, Shaughnessy, Walsh.

In this our second year at Prep the members of our class more than likely look back upon our experiences in our Freshman year with more than a casual smile. Probably we were just like any other Freshman class at Prep—bewildered, meek and awed; yet after a year we are familiar with every nook and corner of the school.

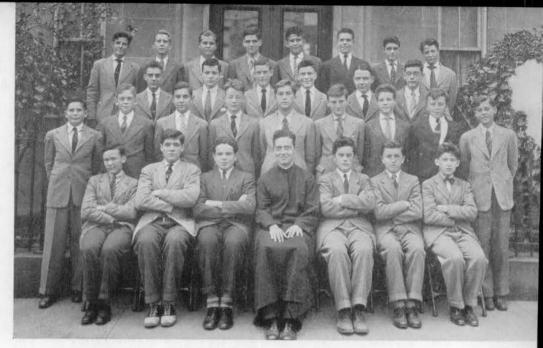

We finally became Sophomores and Bob Shaughnessy went out for the football team and has performed nobly for a Sophomore. Bob Fenton went out for the swimming team and now has a few medals as the fruits of his labors. Frederickson went out for baseball, while Leary and Alexandre kept the class in constant good humor. And always to be remembered is that wise cracking clique of McTiernan, Wallace and Hamilton; "Politics" DeGroot in class meetings and Bert Wallace on his daily jug journeys.

During these two years, we have lost many members and have gained several new additions. We are still trying hard to wedge a laugh in here and there between the Latin, English and Mathematics.

Fourth row: Carlin, Goddard, Hennessey, O'Dougherty, Hayes, O'Keefe, Schirrmeister, White.

A pretty self-confident group of youngsters we look here, don't we? And yet, a short two years ago we were afraid of a man with a camera, so self-conscious were we. We have advanced a good bit since that day, and we only hope that you'll agree it's been for the better. We found out that we were wrong in thinking that we came to Prep to have something given to us; rather, we had to gain it for ourselves, under the ever vigilant guidance of our instructors. We learned that there are more activities at Prep to help us develop our souls, minds and bodies than we'd dreamed of when we began, and we've joined in whole-heartedly, both for our own good and that of the school. At K.B.S. Mass, and at Sodality, you'll always find Bill Shine, George Donaldson, John Grace, Tom Galvin, and a host of others. It's hard to say just who leads the class in studies: but you may be sure that Ryan, Shine, Dwyer and Donldson are near the top every single month. Ryan, McCarthy, Shine, Donaldson and Goddard are old faithfuls at Debate, and you may look for their names, we think, among those passing the bar exam at their first try, round about 1949 or 1950. Prep's coaches have their eyes on us too, especially on Mr. "X", our track star, who never ran faster than he did this past year. Here's hoping the powers-that-be allow us to spend our last two years in Prep together. The results up till now have been highly satisfactory—to us, at any rate.

Fourth row: Garneau, Murphy, Finucane, Wilwerth, Kennedy, John Duffy, Coffey.

To mention the class of 2B2 to any of the faculty who had the good fortune (or misfortune) of attempting to instill some semblance of learning into the occupants of the desks, will surely bring forth the statement that this little unit is perhaps the greatest array of "characters" to matriculate at the Prep in many a leap year. Yet we don't claim this distinction, for we know that every class believes that it has the swellest bunch of fellows, does the "wackiest" things and gets the most enjoyment from school. We merely say and believe that there are no other classes which excel us in the ways of school life.

However with such fellows as Walter Lyon, Dick O'Sullivan and Jimmy Duffy around we are never lacking on the humorous side; withal, we have never forgotten our loyalty to the school and there is not an individual in our group who has not contributed in some way, small or large, to the support of the Prep and to the championing of its ventures. In sport, in the literary field, in public speaking, in student government, and most important, in spiritual activities we have been ably and often brilliantly represented. We're not a group of genii, for as other classes we are often the scourge of the teacher and sometimes the author of his early baldness, but thus far, in our own eyes, we have accomplished the ultimates in class and school life.

It seems but yesterday that the thirty of us entered Prep; and we know that our next two years will go just as fast or even faster-barring setbacks. But while we are here, we're making the most of our time, and gaining everything we can from the many clubs and activities of Prep. We have our representatives in all of them, from Sodality to Jug (especially Jug!). In the former, the Sodality, you'll find under the Sodality article that our own John Brennan is the Prefect of the Second Year Sodalists. Other faithful followers are Kaczorek, Farrell, McCauley, Dennis, Wells, Heim, Casey and Von Glahn. As for our intellectual side, you'll go a long way before finding anyone to touch the aforementioned John Brennan, whose five 100's in a possible five is now.

and probably always will be, a unique feat in the history of Prep. We have a few members on the track team too, who, while they've never taken any medals (and probably never will) yet are among that important horde of "fair-to-middling" people who always kelp push and are never noticed. If you ever need anyone to talk for three hours straight with or without notice, just send word to us, and we'll send you Ted Kaczorek, whom we have never seen at a loss for words. All in all, we're really a rather homogeneous class now, compared with the heterogeneous group of boys that entered Prep in September, 1940; and let us hope that graduation will find us even more solidly welded together.

This extra page is given to the famous class of 2B3 for their support of the Booster Campaign. The members of this class, whom you may see spread out over these two pages, sold the largest number of Boosters per man, and as reward they chose an extra page in THE BLUE BOOK. The members of the staff are only too glad to give is to them:—their loyalty deserves special tribute in this book.

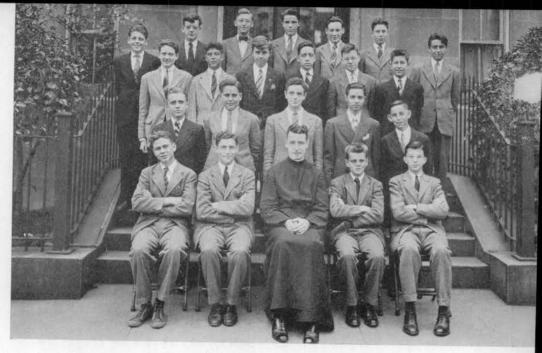

Look back to the preceding page. At the outer edge you will see Slater, a man of all-around ability, about to throw a football. Beside that, you will see the students in class. A little further to the right, presenting Joseph Dennis in a characteristic pose. If you will look at the lower picture, you will see what usually happens when John Brennan is foolish enough to do his homework in public. Then the flying Sophs, Phillips, McGuire and McAllister. At the lower right is Scirghi in a pensive mood. In the pictures above you may see Phillips and Finn. Centered at the top of the page are a "bunch of the boys." Below that McCauley holds forth, while Kaczorek, strange as it may seem, is silent. Upper right, Farrell enjoys the discomfort of Mr. Wells, whose hair is being pulled by the "Great Unknown."

In the lower left hand pictures you will see other classroom scenes. The individual shots of Ferrara and Hamerschlag are not necessarily characteristic poses. In the lower right hand corner, you have a bird's-eye view of the last moment preparation which seems so necessary just before class begins. It is usually of little avail, as Hamerschlag seems to imply by his aloof attitude.

Bottom row: Franke, Mione, Mr. Fitzsimmons, S.J., Kelly, Corbett.

Second row: Guy, Amend, Breen, Garone, Coppinger.
Third row: McConkey, McCoy, O'Brien, Fives, McGarrell.
Fourth row: Drewes, Maloney, Quinn, Mulvey, McLaughlin, Lane, Fagan.

"Great oaks from little acorns grow." After a year at Prep even though we are Freshmen we are losing some of our feeling of awe and esteem for the all highest, the Seniors, and so we have become an integral part of the school and of the school activities. We had satellites in every sport and activity at Prep. The baseball team was benefited by the presence of Bob Guy and Marty Garone; Jim Corbett played tennis; debating found Jim Mione, John McGarrell, Red McConkey and John Quinn in its midst; Ed Franke, Ken O'Brien and James Coppinger held out for the literary side by serving under "Doc" Fitz-Gerald on the library staff; Bill Lane and Jim Coppinger were picked to help run the school by participating in the Student Council; Joe Breen, John Mione and Gene Fagan shared the class presidency; John Drewes and James Fives represented us in basketball circles; Bob McCoy is our class's gift to the girls and he also plays a little football on the side. And finally, by way of rounding out our class history, Tom Simon is another gift to the girls and also our great track star.

Bottom row: Giancola, Pendergast, Mr. McMahon, Mr. Fahey, S.J., Schuyler, Foley

Second row: Buxton, Kalleher, Glynn, Heylman, Broschart, O'Connor. Third row: McLoughlin, Clarke, Gorton, Lauro, Badolato, Helfrich. Fourth row: Reynolds, Lian, Pinto, Null, Anderton, Duffy, Hull.

In February of 1941, twenty-three new freshmen enrolled at Prep and eventually became the class of 1A2. Now, that class has successfully negotiated the perils of freshman year and is known as 2A2.

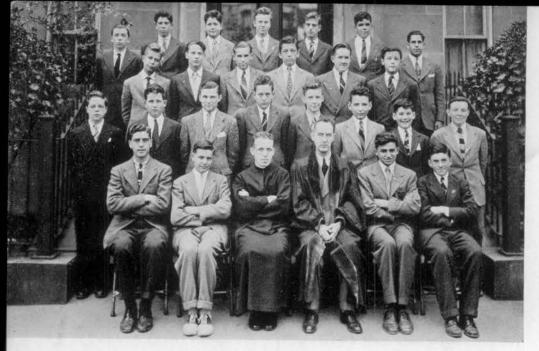

During the past year our class has been well represented in the activities which go to make up a school such as ours, and in my estimation this group is one of the best in the school. 2A2 had intramural teams in basketball, softball, football and debating. Even when we were in 1A our basketball and softball teams did well and, although we did not become champions, our adversaries will tell you that we put up a good fight. The football team, aided and abetted by our own Red Granges, got off to a slow start but at the close of the season we were rolling along in good style. In debating we reached the semi-finals but were stopped there.

Our class was cited as Duces of the Month in the December issue of the Blue Jug and we were well represented in the Sodality and K.B.S. Giancola was an officer in the Sodality; Glynn, Heylman, Kalleher were on the freshman basketball team while Clarke and Giancola were members of the swimming team.

Without a doubt 2A2 is one of the finest classes in the best school in the greatest city in the world.

February
Class

Our class entered the inner sanctum of Brooklyn Prep in February, nineteen hundred and forty-one. At the Freshman social this class won the tug of war, the relay and the steeplechase. In athletic activities our class was ably represented by Frank Schneider in baseball; Murphy, Love, Luzon, Reilly, Joyce, Weis and Mannix were on the swimming team; Paterno and Casey were on the basketball team's first string Jay Vee and Schneider, Walker and Luzon were on the Freshman team.

Our first class outing was a huge success. Under the guiding hand of Mr. Kohl, S.J., our class teacher, we journeyed to the Hotel St. George for a swim, to Child's (adv.) for a turkey dinner and then to the Paramount for a show and a glimpse of Vaughan Monroe and his famous orchestra.

Our first class president was Joe Reilly, with Tom Luzon taking over the berth in the 1B class where he did such a good job that he is the class president in 2A. Before the reader starts to think that our class is a bunch of muscle bound fellows, let us hasten to insist that we were also represented by Andy Dittrich, Hankie Mannix, Joe Paterno and Kevin Joyce in the Book Club and in dramatics by Dixie Walker, Henry Mannix and Joe Reilly.

June Class 1945

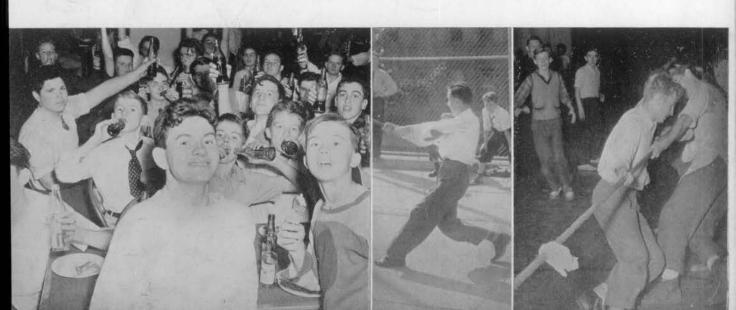

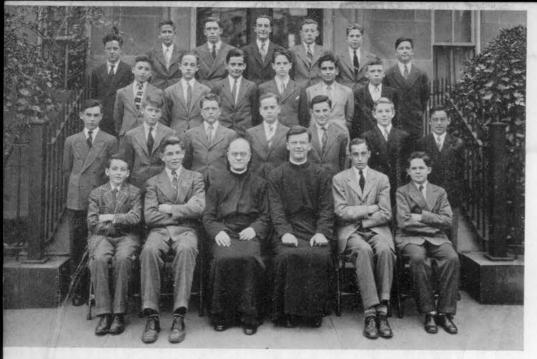

Bottom row: Vuolo, Delany, Mr. Persich, S.J., Mr. Wedder, Fr. Catalano, S.J., Rowen, Hicks. Second row: Donaldson, Scalisi, Poole, V. Walsh, G. Walsh, Manning, Lynch, Bruel. Third row: Sileo, Bennett, Parrelli, Reilly, Meagher, Buxton.

Fourth row: Kenney, Brenner, Whalen, Tobin, Burke, Porto, Michelotti.

September 9th, 1941, was marked by some one hundred bewildered Freshmen venturing timidly across the threshold of Prep. From this crowd, thirty strong young men made up the class of 1A-1. Undaunted by the fact that this was our first venture into high school, we find that we left a trail of first term glory behind us, not only in the field of extracurriculars, but in our class work as well. Frank Michelotti, who has reigned as beadle by virtue of his Latin marks since the cloudy days of October, gave keen competition in the Latin Vocabulary contest, when he placed third. Kevin Delany will long be remembered for his knowledge of Economic Citizenship, while prodigies like Bill Donaldson will be remembered for a brilliant showing in Mathematics. We need to say nothing of the fine composition of Bob Manning. All this is due to the fine teaching of Fr. Catalano, class teacher; Mr. Persich, S.J., our Algebra teacher; Mr. Ambrose, S.J., who taught us English, and Mr. Wedder, who guided us through Civics.

On the sport front we find seven of our fellow classmates representing us on the track team; by name they are, Davie Reilly, Jack Porto, Bill Bennett, Dan Hunter, Kevin Delany, Charlie Parrelli, and Jack Bruel. Bill Meagher is our only member on the swimming team, but he's doing a good job of it. We gave our full share to the Freshman basketball squad, too, though no one of them could quite keep up with Kevin Delany. Space prevents our mentioning any more, but just keep your eyes on us next year!

Fourth row: Powell, Kelly, Gillis, McGee, Vagt, Farrell, Walsh.

We, one of the four freshman classes, entered Prep as a football team enters the gridiron. The football team must face four quarters just as we will face four years. We both enter with a little fear and doubt, but we hope to leave with pride and confidence as the victorious team does. A little of our fear has left since we know what our class can and will do.

As for sports, we held our own. Joe Hurley, our president, was the star center of the JayVee football team. Joe Baxter, Bill Dillon and Frank Schroeder were our contributions to freshman basketball. As for our flashes who daily burned up the indoor track, there were John Powell, John MacDonald, Irving Fox and John Gannon. We also had several journalists in our midst.

There were several characters in our class worth mentioning. Fred Kerr is forever tickling our funnybones; John McClunn is liable to come in on a doggie some day; and the last straw would be for Joe Hurley to arrive really awake at 9:00 A.M.

The Class Motto: All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.

The Teacher's Motto: All play and no work makes him even duller.

In September of last year the good ship 1A3 embarked upon its maiden voyage through Brooklyn Prep. Its crew, which is captained by Mr. Bauer, S.J., is manned by George Davies and John Tadler as officers in control. Among the passengers on the ship are Ed Marlborough and Joe Twyford, the class humorists; Don McHugh, the Bing Crosby of the fleet; Bob Curley and Don Ottens, the great minds; Dan Spaeth, speech maker par excellence; Barney Donovan and Marty Gerra, the basketball demons; Jack Swan, the sleepy wonder; Jimmy Krebs, Big Chief Board Eraser; Emmet Meehan and Bob Rush, the giant rooters; Bob DeGroot, the draft official (in charge of windows); Dan Lee, the streamlined zephyr; Tom Shannon, the Dodger fan; Bill Snyder and Gene White, the football prodigies; Al McCabe, Mr. Persich's prodigy, and Bill O'Brien, the silent man.

Our ship has been decorated on several occasions including the Freshman Vocabulary Contest, when Dan Spaeth walked away with the prize; Freshman Night, when we captured the mythical Frosh championship; the Football Dance, when we all but predominated; the Sodality Drive for Christmas Baskets, when we contributed most, and also in the mid-term hurricane of exams when we gathered high honors.

Bottom row: Sweeney, Quinn Mr. Ambrose. S.J., Plunkett, Murphy.
Second row: Gray, Kertin, McCoy. J. Delaney, Brown, Barney, Mackey.
Third row: Reichert, Gaughran, Dagher, Brennan, Lambert, Hassard.
Fourth row: Murray, Tilyou, Badig, Mooney, Somerville, Flynn, Rotchford.

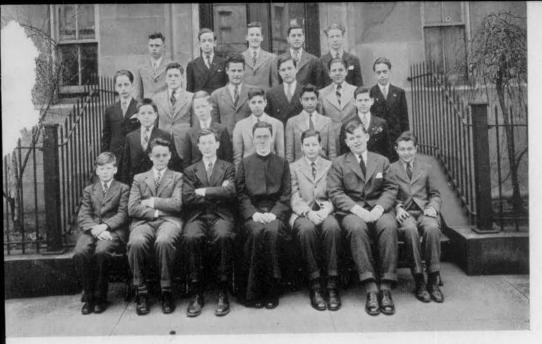

September is usually a sad month, but September of 1941 was an exciting and eventful month for us. When we traversed the hallowed threshold of 1150 Carroll Street with a gleam of expectation in our eyes, our fondest hopes were fulfilled. We found in this school everything that a student could want.

They only left us together for six months; but we certainly made them lively months! Our stars shone in JayVee football, Freshman basketball, ping pong—and we practically manned the Blue Jug. Too bad, too, that there wasn't a prize for the class selling the most football tickets; but the Dance repaid all of us amply. Every Friday morning found all of us on our knees together at K.B.S. Mass—which probably accounts for our passing marks! At noon we pastured together, too, in the cafeteria. Our evening socials were full of fun and companionship; but the height of the season was reached at our first Reunion Dinner and Social. None of us will ever forget that day.

Upper classmen naturally regret being separated; but it is unusual, we think, for youngsters like ourselves to miss each other as much as we do. Our consolation is that we do see each other frequently about the Prep. "Vive la 1A-4!"

No one of us was quite sure just what to expect on coming to Prep that first day in February, 1942the first wartime class entering Prep in twenty-four years. Would the teachers be sociable like our friend Mr. Chips? Would the other fellows be friendly? Would we take a terrible ribbing from the lordly seniors?

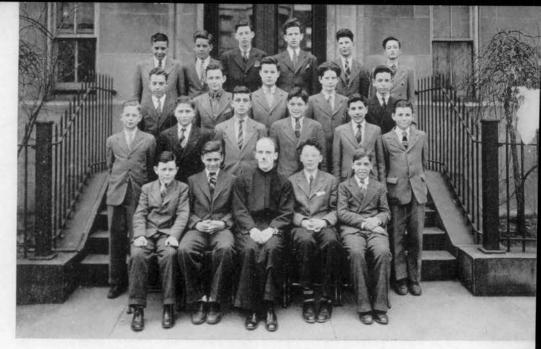

To our surprise we found the questions answered before the first day was over. We had come from far and near: that made no difference, for we were one family while at Prep. We had many divers talents; again it made no difference, for all of these talents were put to use. We had never seen most of our classmates before, but we knew each other well in a week.

Then, as we grew accustomed to Prep and its activities, our early freshman timidity vanished, and we began to take a real part in basketball, baseball, debating and other "extra-currics." From the beginning, of course, we were present at Sodality and K.B.S. Mass-and how we needed the help the latter gave us. The Ping Pong room was another of our favorite haunts, though not always for Ping Pong!

We're young, as yet, we admit: but you'll find us in ever more prominent positions about Prep; ever more thankful to our parents for sending us to Prep; and ever more grateful to God for the blessing of a Catholic education when it is needed more than ever before.

Let us introduce ourselves. We have been in the school but a few months, but those few months give promise of bigger and better things.

At the Freshman Social, we won both basketball games and the tug-of-war. Soon after, we had class elections and Charles Kelly and Frank Mahoney were made president and treasurer respectively.

In the realm of sports, the above-mentioned treasurer was outstanding on the Freshman basketball team, and our esteemed president, M. Kelly, and Bob Andrews pound the boards for Prep. In baseball, Mahoney and Moore found themselves on the team. and Moore, our "little giant," played in the first game of the season. Moore and Andrews are small but "good things come in small packages." Pinto represents us at the riding club and at the pool.

In studies a close race is taking place for the gold medal between the beadle, Montalbano, and Mahoney. The photographic accomplishments of Dagher and Hedderson are represented in this book. Ross is on the library staff, and in junior debating Carney and LaDue argue for the Blue and White.

Keep an eye on us, for in our stay at the Prep we shall cover ourselves and the school with glory.

Fourth row: Stampfl, Ames, Leonard, Noeth, Higgins, D'Albora, Fay.

We would like to introduce ourselves by saying that there are twenty-four of us, as you may see in the picture above if you want to bother counting. In this formal photograph you see us with our hair combed, coats buttoned, and with serious countenances. We are like this because we had to be; but in the snapshots below you see us as we really are. In the first shot we are arriving at school—and note how happy we look! Next we are in class, and our scholastic aspirations are characterized by the picture of Charlie Parma looking out the window as the class waits for the recess or noon bell. The largest picture is of a basketball game—one of our favorite pastimes. These games are played during recess, lunch time, or after school. When the afternoon classes are over, we often drop in to visit the Blessed Sacrament, and then go to resume our games. After this you see us preparing to leave Prep after a day of class, study, games and occasional punishments. And last of all, as the five o'clock bell rings, we begin the trip home, some of us to far points on the Island.

In these snapshots and in the formal picture we are no different than any other class in the school. Yet we have our differences made up by the individuals of the class. The class officers are the energetic Mike Smith, president; George Driscoll, vice-president; Edward Touhey, secretary, and Bernard Golden, treasurer.

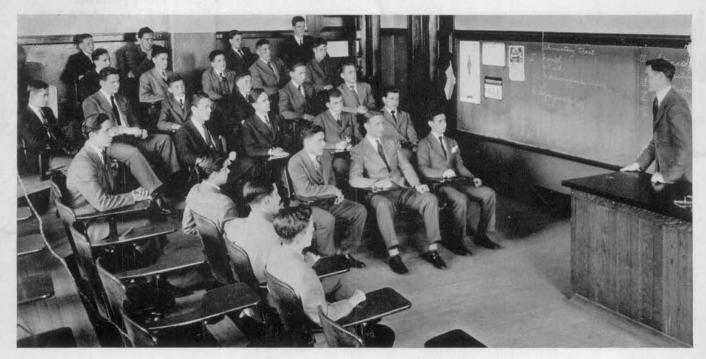

WO THIRTY-FIVE! The bell rings. The one bell which brings joy to the heart of the Prep Student. Class work is over—at least for most of the students—but another work, which goes hand in hand with the Ideal of the School, begins. In this work, which is often considered recreation, the student develops his own personal abilities. He turns to those fields of endeavor which interest him in a special way. It is very possible that these activities do as much as anything else in the School to develop the "whole man"—the Catholic American Gentleman. Here knowledge may be turned into wisdom.

It would be foolish to say that the work accomplished in these fields is professional or the best in the world. It isn't, nor is it supposed to be. The entire process, whatever form it may take—Self-Government, Acting, Writing, Music or Speaking—is essentially one of training. As such, the ideal is to interest as many as possible; to learn by mistakes and to find out, through hard experience, that perfection requires more than ability. Most important, these activities should clearly reveal that there is and ought to be a great deal of pleasure in doing that work for which a man is especially adapted.

In the following pages we shall present the various activities which occupy the Prep Student. Of necessity it will be somewhat stilted and will certainly fail to present the whole picture. As far as it goes, we hope that it is as an accurate and honest portrayal of a very important phase of Prep Life.

STUDENT COUNCIL

James D'Amato was President of the Student Council from September till the end of January. He fulfilled his duties in the best possible manner.

If you should be walking about the halls of Prep on almost any Monday afternoon during the School Year, you would not notice anything out of the ordinary. Not till you came into the vicinity of Room 301. If you happened to glance into the room, your first impression might be that you were face to face with an extraordinarily large Jug Session. Your first impression would be wrong. This is a meeting of the Student Council.

During the year, many changes have taken place in the august body. There is first of all the natural change which time necessarily forces upon all student organizations. If your visit had been made during the first semester, you would have seen James D'Amato holding forth. The expression is earefully thought out, for Mr. D'Amato, in the full sense of the word, "held forth." As President of the Student Council he was always sincere; his efforts did not always meet with absolute success, but the lack of great accomplishments was not due to any unwillingness on his part; with unselfishness he devoted his time and energy to helping Prep and the students of Prep. For this the students of Prep should be, and are, grateful.

Time marched on-and, as many of us eventually do-James D'Amato graduated. His place, as President of the Student Council was taken by Dick McCurdy. It can be said that as President, Dick McCurdy has developed into an excellent speaker who is able to face the most difficult of audiences. his fellow students — with assurance and ability. This is due, in great measure, to the fact that the Assemblies were held under the auspices of the Student Council. The result has been satisfactory in many ways-the Assemblies have consistently maintained a high standard of excellence; the fine discipline has been maintained by members of the Student Council. Such an accomplishment is due in part to the efforts of the President. The Vice-President of the Student Council during this second semester was Greg Schaefer.

While the officers change, there is always a certain amount of essential sameness in the Student Council year after year. The fundamental principles which guide all of these student presidents and all members of the Council remain unchanged. Certain accidentals may change, but at heart the Student Council goes along the road trodden by the Student Councils of former years.

The Evaluating Committee (pictured above) which visited Prep this year held a long session with the Student Council.

The Sodality

Among the activities of the Prep, the one that stands foremost in our minds is the Sodality of Our Lady. The Sodality helps prepare a Prepster for future life; indeed we may say that it plays the greatest part in the forming of our characters.

The Sodality in itself has a two-fold purpose: first, to sanctify the individual, and secondly to prepare its members for the role of active leaders in the Church's crusade for souls.

In regard to its first purpose, the Sodality has under its jurisdiction many fine committees and organizations. Among these, the more prominent are the Minute Men, who make three visits to the Chapel every day, and the Members of the Guard of Honor, who volunteer to spend ten minutes before the Blessed Sacrament at least once a week, the time of this visit being specified by the Moderator. In regard to its secondary purpose, there are still other committees, such as the Eucharistic and Apostolic, and, worthy of special note, the Catholic Literature Committee, which is made up of those Sodalists who are also librarians. This group arranges for exhibitions of Catholic Literature in the Prep Library, with the cooperation of Dr. FitzGerald.

The Sodality is divided into four yearly sections, one of which meets every morning at 8:30. The meeting begins with a hymn to Our Lady, and this is followed by the Office of the Blessed Virgin Mary. At this point the Moderator, or an invited guest, gives a short spiritual "pep talk." A short prayer concludes the meeting.

If you think it is easy to get up half an hour early on a frigid winter's morning—or any morning for that matter—just try it. The members of the Sodality do it, nevertheless, regularly once a week, and gladly, too, in order that they may honor our Blessed Lord through His Blessed Mother. By such devotion and self-sacrifice the Sodality members consecrate themselves to their Blessed Mother and by that gain Her intercession in Heaven and Her protection on earth.

In the Principal's office, familiar territory to him, Henry finds Barbara more interesting than Hamlet. He is as yet unaware both of the bent brow of Miss Shea and of other impending storms. Certitude: he hasn't been summoned for nothing.

The Music Department, in the person of Mr. Wheeler, reports the strange theft of all the band instruments. Principal Bradley is harassed enough without this. He sends for a detective.

History Professor Patterson descends on the office with a pair of oddly similar test papers, Henry's and George Bigelow's. Mr. Nelson looks on.

The two boys are given the test orally. Henry just can't remember who Marius was. George passes without a slip. Mr. Nelson tries to maintain sanity in the office.

Henry and George, left alone in the office, advance from insult to the brink of mayhem, where they are stopped in their tracks by Mr. Eggleston.

Henry has been suspended and has to tell Tommy that he can't buy a dance ticket after all. He tells Barbara that his uncle is dying in Denver.

The title of Prep's '41 play is given in enigmatic lettering on the first page of this section. Though it's really your business to figure it out by yourself, we'll save time by letting the cat out of the bag. It's Clifford Goldsmith's "What A Life," the play that launched Henry Aldrich on his lasting hectic career.

The plot we'll skip, since you'll be able to gather its high points from the captions beneath the pictures. The rôle of Henry was taken by the man who last year won the silver medal in the character of Queen Elizabeth, who was anything but an Aldrich, and the very difficult role of Barbara was carried by the man who last year played the Officer of the Guard in the Tower of London. Versatility is what the Players go in for.

Mr. Ferguson, the detective, was a living example of just what can be done with a minor part. His opening line set a level (in the manner of Ned Sparks) which was maintained till the curtain.

Play production is a business requiring a good deal of what they call teamwork, which demands of every player rapidly alternating fits of brago and modesty, or of self-pushing and self-eclipsing. Everyone can't win the medals, but where would the play be without the messenger or the second spear-bearer? It is possible that we are verging upon the Ferguson has discovered a clue already a pawn ticket for the stolen instruments. Mr. Wheeler is delighted; Mr. Nelson just wondering . . .

In front of Henry's mother, Principal Bradley gives Henry a lecture on the crime of irresponsibility and idleness. Henry is looking straight at the face of despair.

Ferguson has found the instruments in a hock-shop; the pawn ticket in the name of—Henry Aldrich, Fate has done all it can to Henry.

Miss Shea tries to console Mrs. Aldrich in her grief over this latest and worst disgrace to the Aldrich name. Henry tries to sell the contents of his locker to the junk man, Vecchitto.

Mr. Nelson, in the character of a Dutch uncle, succeedes in untwisting Henry's inferiority complex; finds out that he really likes to draw pictures, that he has a definite talent for art, and promises to get him into art school.

trite and too well-worn phrase, but it is the extra who makes or breaks an amateur production. And where would "What A Life" have been without its pivotal Principal Bradley—without its utterly odious villains George Bigelow and Professor Patterson? Plot and counter-plot leaned heavily on Mrs. Aldrich, Professor Wheeler and Miss Shea. Comic relief looked trustingly to Mr. Vecchitto, nor was its trust betrayed. Local color clung to Tommy's coat-tails. Anticlimax rode on the shoulders of Bill. Cooperation is another thing that the Players specialize in.

From the size and applause of the crowd, which jammed the Bishop McDonnell Auditorium to the doors, it is easily seen how great was the appreciation of the student body for the enthusiastic work which was put into this production. It is really true that the Plays produced at the Prep are unusual in one respect: the audiences doesn't have to come because of any sense of duty. Many who, because of family or school ties, have come have come with a very natural fear of a terrible evening—have stayed—and have even come back—for pleasure's sake. Little more can be said for any High School Production.

Our compliments are due the coach (for the second time) of a Prep success, Mr. James Murray, Jr., and to the Moderators Mr. Edwin Cuffe, S.J., and Mr. John Jennings, S.J. We enjoyed their production.

Bill, bearer of useless evidence, seems to time his entrances so as to smash the budding romance of Mr. Nelson and Miss Shea. Love, for the moment, lies butchered on the floor.

Ferguson has a second burst of inspiration and returns with George, the real thief (and forger). Henry is off to art school and peace descends on Central High School,

To put on a successful Mock Trial, a great deal of study and work is necessary. Peter Regan, winner of the gold medal, practices a line of questions on John Feder.

Masini, Dolan and Reilly pour over impressive looking tomes in their effort to know all the facts in the case of Lieutenant Becker versus the State of New York. Dolan's defense of Becker won for him the silver medal.

DEBATING

One of the most important and, at the same time, beneficial activities at Prep is debating. Here the student is trained in one of the most important arts—that of self-expression. On this and the following pages, you will find, in words and pictures, a short story of Prep's speakers.

Dolan cross-examines McCabe at the first reenactment of the "Trial of Lieutenant Becker" held in the Prep auditorium. A portion of the crowd which filled the auditorium at Prep to witness the second annual Mock Trial to be presented by the Senior Debating Society of Brooklyn Prep. From the expressions on their faces it can be seen that the Trial truly held the attention of the audience.

Mr. William Boyle, S.J., Moderator of the Senior Debating Society. Due to his tireless and never-ceasing activity, the Society enjoyed one of its most active years. The invaluable experience gained by the memlers will be of great service to them in later years.

Mr. Terence Fitzsimons, S.J., Moderator of the Junior Debating Society. Public speaking at Prep is not an activity limited to the upper classmen. The polish and ease with which Prep debaters speak is not a mere accident, but the result of long and hard training. That training has been given by Mr. Fitzsimmons.

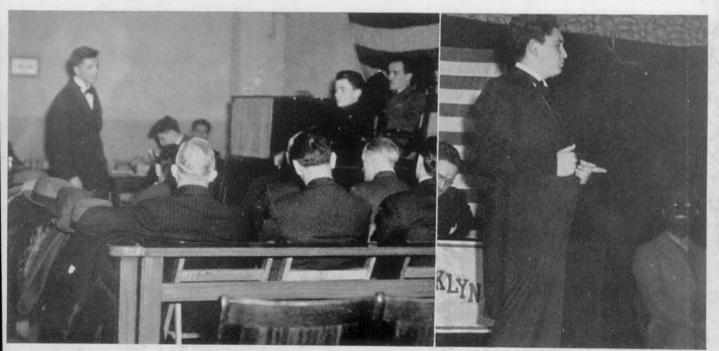

In looking over the record compiled by the Prep Debating Team, we become amazed at the variety, number, and success of the team's achievements.

During the first semester, Mr. William Boyle, S.J., organized a Lecture Club, which was composed of Prep's outstanding speakers. Peter Regan, William Dolan and John McCabe, among others, lectured on "Credit Unions," Consumers' Co-ops," and "The Papal Plan for Peace," in no less than thirty different parishes.

Then Christmas passed, and, on February 20th, the "Trial of Lieutenant Becker" was reenacted. Nearly one thousand people watched tensely, as Peter Regan and James Walsh battled furiously to convict Lieutenant Becker, who was defended by William Dolan and James Mc-Mahon.

When the witnesses had been heard, and the summaries delivered, the jury declared the defendant "Guilty!" Attorney General John J. Bennett then announced that Regan and Dolan were awarded the first and second prizes, respectively, for their excellent efforts.

In the remaining three months of the term, the trial was again reenacted at six parishes. Prep's speakers more than held their own in numerous debates: Peter Regan successfully represented the school in the American Legion Oratorical Contest. When June ended all activity, Prep orators had participated in more than fifty public debates, lectures and contests, to complete a banner year in Prep Debating.

BLUE BOOK

No matter how strong the reasons given, the act of selecting a staff for the BLUE BOOK in May or June, a year before it will come out, seems mighty strange. Yet, as a matter of fact, we who make up the staff, found that it was as wise a step as it was strange. For when we came back in September we found that our minds had not been idle: we were not starting from scratch, but pooling the ideas we had gotten during the summer months. Mr. Mc-Laughlin, S.J., was tireless in following up promising ideas, and we managed, with his assistance, to get all our major plans made before Christmas arrived.

It was not until February, however, that the detail work—of which there was a great deal—began to get under way in earnest. With the addition of photographers to the staff—for we needed about three men to take the place of Salmon—a great deal of work was done. Came the "anschluss."

In your hands is the finished (we hope) product. We cannot judge its value, but we can tell you what we did to produce it. With John O'Hara, John Mulcahy and George Strype as co-editors and business manger, the theme, outline and general plan of the book was decided upon. All with many arguments which nearly resulted in the sudden death of said Strype. He insists that he finally won out—you may believe that or not as you like.

There were other difficulties—among them financial. These were solved by the magnificent way in which the students responded to the Booster campaign. They overwhelmed us—forcing us to add eight extra pages to the book and even to break our hearts by refusing more pages of advertisements. George Strype will never get over this till his last day. Little difference, for there are so many things about this book which he'll never get over (or live down) that one more blow won't matter.

We have said before that the photographers were the backbone of the staff. Such is the literal truth when you are publishing a book which is nearly all pictures. First mention must go to Al Salmon, who took innumerable pictures—all of which he insists are worthy of prizes—he's not under-confident at any rate. In addition to this, he spent almost endless hours in the dark room; many of them as fruitless as they were endless—for he was trying his hand at montages. Two results appear in this book. The others have been condemned to—to—well, they're not in the book.

Strang took many of the football pictures; Saunders filled in the gaps left by Salmon; Blehl and Lisankie turned out prints in the last minute rush to meet any one of half a dozen dead-lines.

The final work of rewriting and dummying the book—which by that time had become that thing—was done by the almost heroic efforts of Charlie Krohn, Financial Manager; Norm Wallen, Augie Stader, Joe Reilly and the ever present editor John Mulcahy.

There are only a few things more left to say: Mr. Jennings, S.J., was tireless in using his camera; Mr. Ambrose, S.J., also helped to guide our wavering hands in times of stress.

Now we are on the way to press—it's been a long road; very frequently it has seemed endless; there is proofreading to come, and we hope that the mistakes are few and not serious. If there are no mistakes, bless us! If there are, blame Strype who insisted on checking every page.

BLUE JUG

To the uninitiated Prepsters the Blue Jug represents the Prep bi-monthly publication. As he hastily scans the March of Trivia earnestly seeking his own name, he little realizes the blood, sweat and tears involved in editing the rag. To appreciate the labor endured, he would have to take part in its actual production. First he would have to attend a general meeting (left) where assignments are given out to the would-be Kierans, Peglers and Powers. Or perhaps as a columist he would receive his lengthy instructions from the editor-in-chief. These assignments consist of covering a Prep activity in a stipulated number of words. Too lengthy an article results in overmatter-a constant headache to the Moderator. Too short an article requires last minute rush copy a continual curse on the editorial staff. Hence the need for editors. Somebody has to be cursed. Each news story must contain accurate facts in order that the staff may avoid the irate criticisms of a baseball player who is credited with only five assists in place of his actual six. A misstatement concerning the date of a Prep Social affair would result in crowds coming on the wrong day. (So the staff would like to think.)

(UPPER PICTURE) Jim DiGiacomo instructs Jerry Golden and Tom Lannon on the Round The Prep column. This column represents the students reflections on the Social Life of Prepsters. Here a 4B student may learn for the first time that his "Steady" has been dated by a Freshman. To be mentioned in this column is the ambition of every Prepster. (Consult Columnists.)

fter assignments have been submitted, the work really ns. Re-write men (Bob Manning, Jack McCabe, Joe y, and the editors) must evaluate the various reports, k the accuracy of the details, and supervise the typing. n the articles are thoroughly prepared, they are subed to the Headmaster for approval. After this they are to the printers and galleys are returned. Then begins wild and hectic process known as "dummying." The bw galleys are cut up, and pasted to fit the demands of paper. The white galleys are used for corrections. This ous job is entrusted to the editor. After the articles have dummied the writing of heads is begun. The demands cross word puzzle are child's play when compared with exigencies of the head line "count." A seventeen-sevencount means that seventeen letters (spaces included) st be used in the "head." This head must also give a ad" to the article.

After the heads are written, and the styles of type are ided, they are sent to the printer and the dummying ocess is repeated. The next step consists of "page proofs" stual reproductions of the page as it is to appear). These age proofs" present a final opportunity for alterations. Then the paper arrives.

Jim DiGiacomo and Jack McCabe count out "heads" for the next issue. This task of head hunting is disliked by most staff editors. No savages, they!

With a smile and a prayer, Bob Phillips prepares an article for Sports Page. The glint in his eyes reveals determination mination is essential for a Sports Writer at Prep, for loyalty at times seem to conflict.

About one thousand copies of the paper are printed. These are distributed to the students, sent to the Parochial Schools in Brooklyn and Long Island, to the Prep Grads in the Services, and to the subscribers.

The Staff of the School owes a gigantic debt of gratitude to the progressive policy of Mr. William J. Bauer, S.J., the genial and jovial Moderator. It was under his guiding hand that such novelties were introduced as The Voice of Experience, The Voice of the Student and, last but not least, The Literary Supplement, a twenty-four page magazine containing short stories and poems by Prepsters.

"Smiling Jack" Mulcahy and Greg Schaefer pound out the Sodality Column. Their most important task is to promote the Prep spiritual activities and to select the "Dux" of the week. Mulcahy's main complaint is that he can't select himself.

New and young blood is essential to the Staff; no one realizes this more than the Moderator. Hence he introduces Freshmen Jerry Brown, Joe Sweeney and Dan Spaeth to the intricacies of galley reading. To promote this principle, one issue of the Blue Jug was edited entirely by members of the Freshman Class under the leadership of Frosh Manning.

On the day of issue the Blue Jug is distributed to class representatives; over five hundred copies are given out in this manner. In this way each Prepster is sure to receive his copy of the paper which thus circulates to Brooklyn, Long Island, and even Staten Island.

The mailing out of the paper is entrusted to Ed Reichert, Moe Gaughran and Tom Flynn. Copies are sent to nine different states and to three different nations. Thus the March of Trivia marches on.

DUGOUT

One of the most necessary and hardest tasks at Prep is taken care of by the Dugout Crew. This group of workers keeps the students at Prep supplied with athletic equipment to be used on the field and in the yard. Theirs is a thankless task, for it is impossible to satisfy everybody. This term the Dugout has been manned by Brickfield, as Captain of the Crew, Wallace, Wallen, Maher, McGee and DeGroot. Their work deserves more recognition than we are giving it, but they were one of the few groups which managed to dodge our avid cameramen.

The Book Club

This year Prep added a new activity to the already large number of extra-curricular activities. As you have probably surmised this new addition has been named "The Book Club." The chief aim of the club is to further an interest in reading among the students. ranks of the club are mainly composed of Sophomores; however a few juniors who were members last term have returned to swell the ranks. The Book Club convenes every two weeks, at which time the members select a book which they are going to read during the next fortnight. At every meeting the book selected the previous fortnight is discussed by having its various qualities—both good and bad dragged into the open and shown to the numerous members. Captain Blood, Beau Geste, Up From Slavery, With the Eagles, The 39 Steps, The Red House Mystery and The Crisis are some of the books which were discussed by the club members. The members generally agree that the books read were good. The Moderator, Mr. O'Donovan, S.J., usually points out some especially good literary points and brings them to the attention of the members.

During the first term of the club's existence, William McGuinness and George Gaugler were the officers. During the second term Joseph Ryan was elected president. Mr. Joseph W. O'Donovan, S.J., founded the club and is at present the Moderator.

The Library

This year with the institution of the Book Club the library has taken on new significance, for the aim of them both is to enable the student to have a better understanding of what he reads. To obtain this end they work together to choose and list the books which the students will enjoy most. The two groups were at the height of their success during Catholic Book Week when Sister Mary Joseph of Missouri gave her illustrated lecture on "Living Catholic Authors." The lecture hall was overflowing with students, faculty and visiting librarians. This proved that an interest in good reading had been aroused at Prep.

For the past semester Peter Regan, a celebrity of his own making, has been assistant librarian which means that he is Doctor Fitz-Gerald's busy helper. To be on the library staff does not mean only the soft job of checking books in and out of the library, for every member has an assigned task which generally cuts into his other activities.

In the main show case there is always an exhibit of current interest. The most outstanding of this year was Mr. Reiner's colorful display of minerals from various parts of the world. On the tables there are generally displays from different classes which are based on their studies of History.

During the past year the Library had many good exhibits. The one above is an example

FATHERS' GUILD

Mr. Murphy, father of Thomas Murphy '42. addresses the Fathers and Sons at the Communion Breakfast held at the Knights of Columbus Club. To Mr. Murphy goes credit for the "theme" which resounded throughout the Breakfast: "We've done it before—we can do it again."

Brooklyn Preparatory School and the Students of Prep owe the Fathers' Guild an enormous debt. Not only does this body of men offer a full four year scholarship each year, but by its untiring efforts it helps to increase the registration of the School and to make Prep and its work better known to the citizens of this borough.

Many successful evenings were held by the Guild this year and it is our duty and pleasure to list a few of these.

"Fathers' and Sons' Night," at which the fathers are introduced to the teachers of their sons, was a most successful evening. Mr. Leo Klauberg very capably managed the entertainment of that evening. The "Smoker" was a success from every point of view due in great measure to the efforts of Mr. Walter Sutton. The Card Party and Raffle Committee was under the direction of Mr. John McLaughlin; while the raffle was run on a smaller scale this year, the crowds at the Card Party were as large and as enthusiastic as ever. Mr. Sheehan was Chairman of the Annual Mass and Communion Breakfast. Nearly one thousand fathers and sons attended Holy Mass and breakfast at the Columbus Club. Mr. Cantwell was Chairman of the Committee which attended to the last affair of the year, Parents' Night.

The officers of the Guild for the past year deserve a special vote of thanks for their untiring efforts. They were: Rev. John H. Klocke, S.J., moderator; Mr. Frank A. Grace, president; Mr. Charles H. Larson, vice-president; Mr. Peter F. Callery, treasurer and Mr. Matthew J. Lisankie, secretary.

Special thanks are due to Brother Smith, S.J., for his untiring labors; to Father Hufnagel, Mr. Bauer, S.J., and Mr. H. Boyle, S.J., for their work. Bill Grace, Herb Kopke, Bill Walsh, and the fathers of John Gleason and Walter Strang should never be forgotten by those who enjoy the "present."

THE CLASS OF 1B3

The Class of 1B3 supported the Booster Campaign in very fine style. If the truth must be told, and it shall be, they sold the largest number of boosters, and were second only to that extraordinary group of men of 2B3 in the percentage of Boosters sold per man. In recognition of the help which they have given us, we, the members of the Blue Book Staff, gladly give them these extra pictures and this extra page, upon which a large number of them will find themselves immortalized in future years.

MAN . . . CATHOLIC AND AMERICAN. As in other departments of the School, so in Athletics this is the primary goal toward which everything is directed. The winning of games is important but not essential: — the essential thing is that we become men.

At this time, our Country has a very real need of men who are sane in mind and hard of body. Without doubt, the Athletic Program at Prep turns boys into men who are hard of body. It would be a mistake to assume that sanity and balance of mind is obtained only from Prep's other activities. The Athletic Program, as carried on at Prep, helps to develop the Spiritual and Intellectual qualities of the student.

There is sportsmanship:—we are out to win, and we fight our hardest to win. Our fight is fair and clean. The Catholic and American way.

There is team-play:—the team works as a unit; individuals join together to attain a common goal by a union of the strength and skill of individuals. Perfect training for life in the Catholic and American Society.

There is persistence and courage:—long, dog-hours of practice to prepare for a distant event is hard and discouraging. Yet it can honestly be said that those who participate in Prep Athletics, even in the face of defeat, keep at it. Such a training is essential for the Catholic, that he may defeat the enemies within, and outside of, himself. Such a training is particularly necessary for the American that, in the dark days ahead, he may persist in his labors till Victory is ours.

Because of all these things, we proudly present a really integral part of Brooklyn Prep, her Athletes.

FOOTBALL

One would hesitate before saying that the 1941 Blue and White football team made history. For the record of two wins, four losses, and a tie would be quick to deny it. But the 1941 gridiron warriors as a team had one claim to fame, namely, that potentially the Prepsters had the ability to go undefeated and thus perhaps become mythical city champs. The fact still remains that this potential strength was never realized and the reason might very easily be attributed to a gal called "Fate."

However win or lose the team has to be given a large amount of credit for the work it accomplished—the long hours of practice, training, physical punishment, and finally the natural tension experienced just before game time. Co-Captains Bob Dolan and Jim Tynion led their mates through the season in grand style and few, if any, can deny this.

The "Pictures of Our Football Season." Our wide awake camera-men snapped Larkin on an end-around play. Can you figure out who is taking out whom?

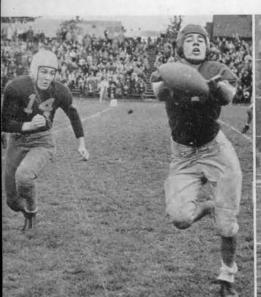

But what about the record?

Well, to repeat a well-worn phrase, it doesn't tell the whole story.

It was in a fog, as thick as pea soup, that Prep met and defeated All Hallows on Fordham Field. Bob Dolan scored the first touchdown of the year on a pass from Dick Cronin. Late in the fourth quarter, Prep's up and coming sophomore Bob Shaughnessy scampered fifteen yards into pay dirt.

Flushed with victory, the Blue and White next met the strong Mt. St. Michael's eleven at the new home field at Brooklyn College. A great defensive battle was broken up by Prep's fourth quarter sustained drive of fifty-five yards sparked by the play of Bernie McCarthy. The last white stripe was crashed by Bob Dolan.

Everything seemed to look grand for the team...up until Xavier. For on that day, the goal line of the Blue and White was crossed for the first time as one of Xavier's greatest teams scored an upset and handed the Prep its first defeat. The details would best be left unmentioned.

Polglase reaches for the sky, prays, . . . misses!—All in the Xavier game.

In the Poly Game Larkin went after this pass. 'Nuff said.

Brickfield "swats a fly" as Walters gets ready for the Kill. Golden looks on. Dolan is carrying the mail.

A little stunned, but wanting more than ever to show it was a freak, the McMahonmen next tackled the Brown and Gold of Adelphi. Fate seemed to have a hand again as Adelphi passed the Prep dizzy. Shaughnessy's two touchdowns, however, helped ease the pain.

Then came Poly and another tight game. It was in the fourth period that Raffetto, ace back of Poly, returned a punt sixty-five yards for a score that handed Prep its third straight defeat.

The following week it was the little Rams of Fordham who played host to the Blue and White gridders. A really good Maroon and White team which displayed some fine blocking proved too much for the Prepsters. However, Prep's fourth loss was not recorded before Frank Brickfield snatched a fumble out of mid-air and raced seventy yards for a score.

After the St. Iohn's game, the squad gathers around the football and the C.Y.O. trophy won by Co-Captain Dolan.

Players and rooters alike were pretty despondent as preparations for the St. John's game got under way. Coach McMahon's talk at the pre-game rally seemed to inject something into them for, on Thanksgiving Morning, the Blue and White football team held a highly favored St. John's Prep team scoreless. Not only that but they virtually drove the Redmen out of Brooklyn College Field according to the statistics and turned in one of the best games ever played in this perennial Turkey Day rivalry.

Co-Captain Bob "Butch" Dolan received the C.Y.O. Trophy as the most valuable player in the game by virtue of his outstanding running, tackling and pass defense.

For seventeen senior gridders, the St. John's fray marked their last appearance in Blue and White. Linemen such as Tynion, Holm, Boylan, Walters, Larkin, Hodson, Costigan, Polglase, Brickfield, McCauley, Kane and Hiltbrand; backs the likes of Dolan, Welsh, McCarthy, Kopke and Fenn will be hard to replace. Their substitutes plus a wealth of up and coming talent may fill the gap created by their graduation. Next year we hope to turn out a team which will achieve what the 1941 team failed to achieve — an undefeated season.

Under his direction the Prep pigskin tossers have cashed in on the winning side of the ledger considering the handicaps Coach McMahon overcame, such as losing material through graduation and accidents. His teams have won 9, lost 8 and tied 5 games.

Mr. McMahon, with 4 other Prep coaches, has joined the forces of Uncle Sam. Next year's coach may be sure of a good foundation to work with, men trained by Coaches McMahon and Murphy.

BASKETBALL

We all know about the Varsity Basketball team, its schedule and its historical record. The scores which the team piled up last season were obtained mostly by the Winters-Cronin combination with the help of Jerry Golden and Tom Kelly. These four Prepsters played in all 22 games and the earnestness with which they played made up slightly for the poor showing Prep made in the Basketball annals. By their efforts 512 points were added to the positive side of the record. Winters heaved 267 of them, a new high scoring record for the Prep, Cronin sank an even century, Jerry Golden landed a total of 76 points and Tom Kelly held up the rear with 69 points. So you can see the Prep fans owe much to these "Four Balls of Fire." But even with their efforts the Prep fans were not rewarded with any too successful a season. In fact, if we weren't so polite, we might label it as definitely poor.

Coach McMahon certainly tried to smooth something resembling a basketball team out of the equipment and material he had at hand; but after all he was and is only human. The hours he spent in training the team were entirely fruitful only in the case of the "Four Balls of Fire." Marty McCarthy, Pat Mercurio, Bob Doran, Ed Hiltbrand, Moe Mahoney and Si Geoghan had their moments of greatness which gave proof of the many hours of practice, but they did not have the opportunity to prove their worth in a consistent manner.

As you have probably realized by this time, Captain Jack Winters was more than the casual backbone of the team; he was the high scorer and our best bet. To him must go most of the credit for the few high spots of the campaign. Most memorable of all was the game with Adelphi in our debut at Madison Square Garden. The entire team showed its worth and came out on the right end of a 51-36 victory. Nor is that all, for it was on that day that Winters really went to town scoring enough points to establish a new Interscholastic Record in the Garden. This in itself would have made the season far better than average. Then again, there was the Cathedral affair in which Captain Winters scored twentyfive points. Last but not least, there is the

A sequence of plays from the St. Francis Prep game. It looks to us (we really don't know) as if Winters has just shot and missed; in the lower shot the ball is recovered by a Saint Francis player while Winters follows up and Mahoney tries to edge in. You mustn't ask us how our photographers managed to get such a sequence—there must have been a crowd of photographers at the game. story of the Regis game. It is a story of grim determination on the part of the team and of lusty and mighty cheering by a small but enthusiastic group of Prep rooters. Cronin and Winters came through to win this game against a highly favored opponent. We came from behind to tie the score and in the extra periods managed to gain the victory.

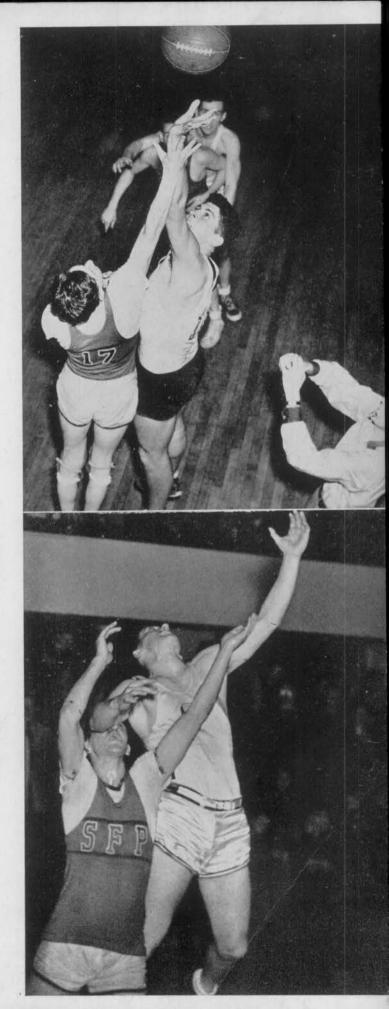

So much for the past season; we have stressed some of the high points and neglected to give details of the failures; many of them were games lost in over-time periods and by close scores. We must look now to next season and there are at least possibilities. Cronin and Golden will be back at the wars; in addition to them, Ed Kelly, Moe Mahoney and Si Geoghan are veterans of this Varsity Campaign. From the ranks of the J.V. squad there seems to be a great deal of material: Spollen, Aylward and McCurdy are among those who will certainly be members of next year's squad. Last, but not least, there are the members of Prep's most successful aggregation: the Freshman squad which won a high percentage of their games.

Junior Varsity

The J.V. section of our basketball set-up fared pretty well this past season. Consisting of Spollen, Callahan, Paterno, Aylward, McCurdy, Brancato and McHale, they will offer great material aid for next year's Varsity. During the past season the J.V. successfully handled 4 out of the 11 games it volunteered to play. This record substantiates our contention that the J.V. will ably fill last season's Varsity places and end up with a better record to its credit.

At least a casual mention should be made of the Freshman basketball squad "The Geraghty Wonders." They just completed a very successful season and all loyal Prepsters have great hopes for their future.

TRACK TEAM

Since the last edition of the Blue Book, our hardworking Track team has undergone a major change. Coach Jim Dobbins was inducted into the army and the position he so capably filled was taken by Coach William McGrath, a veteran who had previously coached many famous track stars and teams.

The Cross-Country team of MacCauley, Downey, McAllister, Cuddihy, Quigley and Carroll led by Captain Bob Lankenau and spurred on by the fine performances of Vinnie Carroll showed a good record for the season, Power and Poly both having fallen victims to our superiod strength in dual meets 39-16 and 37-20½ respectively. The Junior Varsity consisting of Aylward, Murray, McMahon, McGuire, Cherry and Walsh also defeated these teams. The first 80-23 and the second

Top Row: C. Andrews, Fox, Angelo, Shaughnessy, McMahon, Walsh, Larkin, Hodson, Phillips, Cherry, O'Sullivan, Downey, Porto, McKeon, Fitzpatrick, Fleri, and Shine.

Capt. Vinnie Carroll is Prep's outstanding track star and, with another year to go, our chief hope for future glory.

34-26. Jim Walsh led the team to victory with a first place in both meets with Bob Aylward placing second.

In the CHSAA meet, the Varsity garnered fifth place and the J.V. showed good prospects for the future by taking second place. Vinnie Carroll turned in the team's best time of the season doing 12:29 in the AAPS meet, at Van Cortlandt Park.

After Cross-Country a disappointing turnout greeted Coach McGrath's call for the indoor season. Later, although a large turnout appeared, the majority of the team was inexperienced and the season was not too successful.

The senior relay team was made up of Harry Scanlan, Tim Cronin, Dick Murray, Gene Quigley and Vinnie Carroll, Captain. The junior relay consisted of Jim McGuire, Jim and Neill McAllister, Joe Maloney and Ed Badeau.

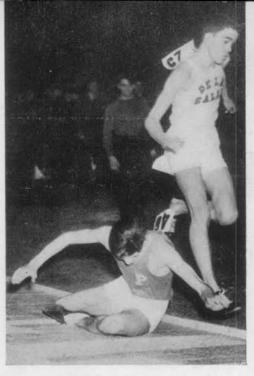

Senior Relay Warms Up Scanlon, T. Cronin, Quigley, and Carroll.

In the PSAL meet the first relay team finished third in the mile and the junior team took third in the half-mile.

Vinnie Carroll, as a novice, showed his true form in smashing the Stuyvesant meet record with a 2:04:02 half-mile. In the same meet Ed Downey took a second place in the mile with Bob Lankenau at his heels. The relay teams also fared well. The senior relay team took third place. The freshman team of Mike Smith, John Powell, Dave Reilly, Charles Parelli and William Bennett took a second.

Our track team is expected to do well next year because of the experience gained by the newcomers in the meets of this year.

 was his first but not his last.

This picture really belongs on the next page-BUT-it's a nice picture and its the same size as the opposite picture; so here we present—the Freshman Squad.

From the picture of the squad on the first page of this article, you will see the large number which has turned out for the outdoor season. This is a most encouraging sign, for this sport under the guiding hand of Coach McGrath is an excellent conditioner. Nor is the interest solely in track events; the corner of right field has been made into a jumping pit, and Golden, Hodson and Larkin have been busy with the shot put, the javelin and the discus.

Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons you can see them out there—doing setting-up exercises, running, jumping and throwing—the field is far from over-crowded—but the hope of the Prep's track team and of a nation of hard men lies in young men who are willing to pay the price to get themselves in shape.

Prep has such men!

Last Minute Notice: We promised Joe Golden that we'd make a special announcement about his winning the javelin throw in the Private School Meet. Congratulations!

Downey and Lankenau trot around Prep's outdoor track.

The Junior Relay had a most successful season, winning their race in the CHSAL Meet in Madison Square Garden, and also taking first place in their event at The Brooklyn Prep Second Relay Carnival. Badeau hands the baton to McGuire while at the right Murray receives the stick from Neil McAllister.

SWIMMING

The Athletic Association and the veterans of past campaigns made a great effort to bring out the aquatic talent in the school. Despite the effort, the swimming team was not overburdened with an excess of material when the first roll call was taken. There was one chief consolation—Charlie Holm, captain of the team, was still in there splashing. Using Charlie as the central figure, Coach Quinn managed to get one fairly strong combination by uniting the efforts of Dick McCurdy, Jack Lawless, Bob Fenton, Dick Love and Ed Hart. As for the remainder of the team, we have the consolation of knowing that they are mostly Freshmen and Sophomores, and if they continue working as hard as they did this year we may be able to write of more successful campaigns in the future. Long before next season comes around Coach Quinn will have joined the United States Navy (another Prep coach who is serving Uncle Sam) and as a result will not be able to help the "old gang" as he has in the past. Let us hope that they will live up to his hopes and show the fruits of his labors. It would be unbecoming if we did not publicly express our gratitude to Coach Quinn for the wonderful work he has done for Prep. In the final analysis swimming was not very important; the things which Coach Quinn taught, by word and example, were.

Now for a well deserved word about the Captain of the "aqua boys" Charlie Holm. The King Fish Charlie "Chub" (to those who aren't too intimate) Holm has been a member of the Squad for four years. In his Freshman year "Chunky" (the author is pleased to remain anonymous) was awarded a Junior Varsity letter for services rendered. In the following three years, Charlie has won a major letter, this being his third and last season at a Varsity post. Needless to say, Prep will miss the man who was the highest individual scorer in the C.H.S.A.L. In the 100 and 220 yard free style events Charlie upheld the honor of the school in magnificent style. In most of the meets, Dick McCurdy tirelessly practiced the backstroke. He scored with fair consistency in the majority of the meets.

Charlie Holm going through his favorite workout. He dives and tears through the water with the greatest of ease—the high scorer of the Swimming League.

Friend (we hope) Holm scored at least a second in both these events; in many he finished at the head of the field.

For the sake of those who like statistics, we shall give a short resume of the season.

We started off in very poor fashion. Erasmus and Tilden proved too strong for us. On March first Bob Fenton and Dick McCurdy got into the swim (pardon) of things and helped Charlie Holm in bringing some points to Prep. On this date in a C.H.S.A.L. meet Fenton placed second in the 220 yard free style while McCurdy took a silver medal in the 40 yard backstroke.

The Saint Francis meet was as close as we got to a win. Throughout the entire meet we held the lead. In the last race, the relay, the Terriers got off to a big lead, but a great anchor leg by Dick Giery brought us to within twelve inches of a win. Score: 40 to 32.

Loughlin proved too strong for us—and this was the end of a dismal season. In this meet, Captain Holm showed his usual stellar form by romping off with the 100 yard free style event. Jack Gately took the 40 yard free style race while McCurdy, Fenton, Giery, Lawless and Hart were gathering points in other events. Final score: 41-22.

Despite the fact that this record is far from impressive, the showing which the team made in the Championship Meet was outstanding. Charlie Holm took third place in the 100 and 200 yard free style—which isn't surprising but it is very gratifying; Dick McCurdy grabbed a fifth in the 100 yard backstroke and the relay team, consisting of Dick Giery, Jack Lawless and Dick Love, also accounted for a fifth.

To the left we present our one and only attempt at superimposing one picture on another. The picture represents the beginning and end of a back-jack, executed by Mr. Hart with his usual proficiency.

BASEBALL

A new system has been developed for the handling of Prep's baseball problem and by all indications this new innovation will be for the best. This innovation in Prep's baseball arrangement is the consolidation of the Freshman, Junior Varsity and Varsity teams into one more compact and smooth playing team. This arrangement was mainly caused by the fact that we now have only one coach as compared with the three coaches of previous years.

Coach McMahon, our head coach for many years, has left Prep to join the armed forces, thus raising to five the number of our coaches who have joined the colors.

Rev. Francis Geraghty, S.I., Coach of Baseball, is faced with the thankless task of leading an inexperienced team through a difficult schedule.

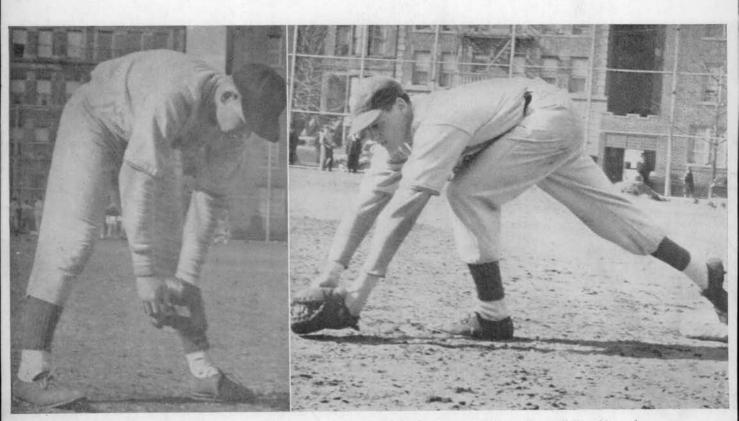

The Varsity Squad as it appeared the day before the first game: (Kneeling) Reilly (Mgr.), Schneider, Amato, Reynolds, Adams, Moore, Schuyler, Mahoney; (Standing) Gilman, Wiseman, Boutross, Frederickson, Cronin, Quell, Kelly, Brickfield Gorra, McCurdy (Capt.), Kennedy, Costigan, Winters, Garneau, Vaczey, Sheehan.

The new coach, Rev. Francis J. Geraghty, S.J., has taken over the coaching berth left vacant by Coach McMahon. Father Geraghty has proven himself very well by his coaching of the Freshman basketball team.

Backed up by what looks to us to be a promising team we have "fair to middling" hopes for this season's schedule. The first string consists of Captain Dick McCurdy at first base, Reynolds at second, Quell at third,

Rev. Francis O'Brien, S.I., Chaplain, United States Army, and former teacher at Prep throws out the first ball of the season in the game with St. Francis. The game was played on our field, an innovation this year, being really an attempt to increase the attendance at the home games.

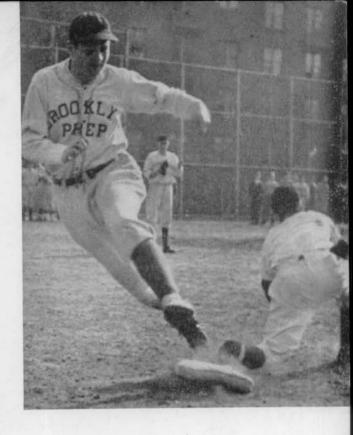

Quell bends for a low one. Quell, a veteran of last year, will see a great deal of action in this campaign.

Captain McCurdy, the regular first sacker, will have his work cut out for him is seen reaching for one of those high ones which may come his way.

Amato at shortstop, Costigan behind the plate, Winters pitching and Gorra, B. McCarthy, Cronin and Brickfield in the outfield. Acting as reserves are Wiseman, Frederickson, Garneau, Schuyler, Adams, Mahoney and Gilman.

Our report of the season must necessarily be incomplete because of the fact that we have to go to press before many games have been played. Our first game was with St. Francis.

The first action shot of the baseball season. Brickfield is out at first in a close one in the game with Saint Francis. We started off well in this game getting five runs in the first inning—then came the deluge. We lost our eyes and Saint Francis found theirs. Result: Saint Francis 17, Prep 6.

The first team lines up before the season: Amato. Brickfield, Costigan, Gorra, Captain McCurdy, Quell, Winters, Cronin, Reynolds.

Gorra and Cronin, possible outfielders, line up at the end of a practice session. Gorra, as we go to press, has not played in all the games; Cronin has been a regular fixture in center field, covering that territory in fine style.

Baseball Schedule

Our schedule this year is as follows:

April 14 St. Francis 17; B.P. 6

17 Cathedral 2; B.P. 10

21 Xavier 2; B.P. 1

24 Loughlin 1; B.P. 2

28 St. Augustine's

30 Adelphi

May 1 St. Michael's

5 St. John's

8 St. Francis

12 Cathedral

14 St. Peter's

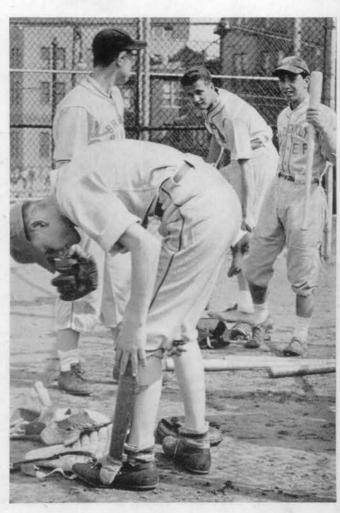

19 Loughlin

22 St. Augustine's

26 St. Michael's

29 St. John's

St. Francis won by a score of 17-6. In our second game we played Cathedral which in the end found us at the right end of a 10-2 score. The next game was with Xavier. We lost by a close margin, 2-1. Regis was next on the schedule, and they came out with three runs while we came out with one. In a hard-fought game with Loughlin we managed to earn victory by the small but certain margin of 2-1.

Garneau, Reynolds, Gorra and Amato get ready for a practice session. Garneau was substitute catcher, Reynolds the regular second baseman, Gorra was slated for the outfield, while Amato held down shortstop. Amato's work in the Loughlin game was outstanding.

TENNIS

Tennis is one of Prep's outstanding sports. Besides developing good sportsmanship and friendliness with the opposing teams, it also builds up each individual player physically even more than do other games. Again, tennis is a sport which can be continued after we have finished school, and training in it is a valuable asset for every American who wishes to keep fit. As Coach Goode is reported to have said, another great advantage of tennis is that it brings about the most perfect synchronization of all our muscles. And all that with a minimum chance of being injured.

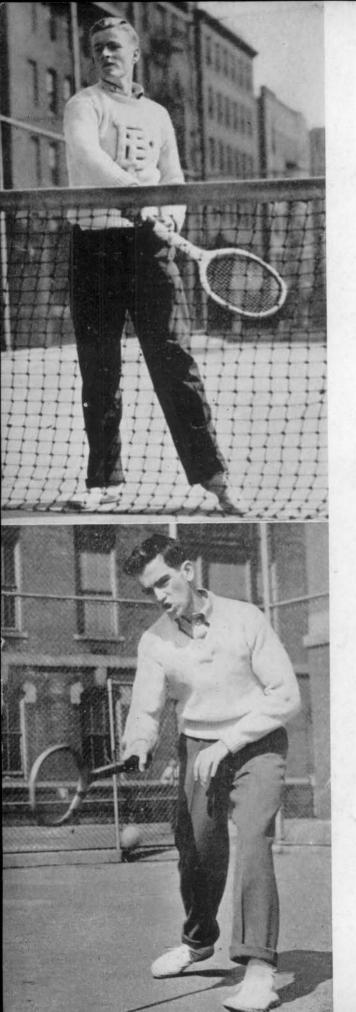

Enough of generalities; there is every hope that this year's tennis team at Prep will have a most successful season. Such a prophecy is literally taking our life in our hands,

The Varsity Squad as it looked in an early practice session: McCauley, Biasi, Higgins, Feder (Mgr.), Bishop, Leavy, Cuddihy (Capt.), Petri, Cruikshank, McCabe, Purcell, O'Connell.

Coach Goode poses at the net. In spite of the fact that the season hadn't begun when the picture was taken he looks serious. Prep students and the members of the Tennis Squad owe a special vote of gratitude to Mr. Goode for his untiring and successful efforts to make Tennis a major sport at Prep. Under his guiding hand Prep's Tennis teams have consistently been in there fighting for the League Championship. The team to beat was Brooklyn Prep. This year is no exception. Only this year there are very real possibilities that Prep will end up at the head of the field.

for when you read this, you will know exactly what kind of a season the Tennis Team has enjoyed. We who write it are still hoping. In spite of the risk we are willing to go out on a limb—this team is going to win, or come very close to winning, the League Championship.

Here are the facts: There are a number of men left over from last year's team: Art Cuddihy and Bob Bishop head the list. Bishop has been a member of the Varsity squad for two years, while Cuddihy has a year of experience under his belt. It is fairly certain that they will win the majority of their matches. Jack Mc-Cabe and Bob Cruiskshank are also veteran members of the Varsity, but the pre-season dope has relegated them to a minor position. It is only fair to ask who are the new members who have forced them into the background -no minor task. The first answer is Jim Petri who, as a singles player has been burning up the court and really looks unbeatable in the number three position. Jim played J.V. last year where as number one man, he lost only one match. The others who have turned the tables, are, first of all, Higgins and Purcell, two other members of last year's Junior Varsity who have managed to set themselves definitely as the best doubles combination in the School. A great deal is expected of them. In a way our hopes rest upon their shoulders, for if they win consistently, an exceptionally fine player on an opposing team will not cause our defeat. A point in doubles is just as valuable as a point in singles. Higgins and Purcell will have to bring home those points.

In the second position for doubles are Dan Biasi and Dick Larson. They have given Purcell and Higgins a good fight—losing only by close scores. Their task, in a way, is easier than that which faces the number one doubles team. Their competition is not going to be as stiff; our optimism rests upon this: it could be just as stiff and we'd still come out on top in most cases.

All this is tentative: Mc-Cabe and Cruickshank may develop into the full bloom of their prowess. And there is a young mann caller Marraro who may succeed in changing the whole order—he seems to have the ability to give our best a good fight. With a little more experience, he may effect a victory—with all that it entails.

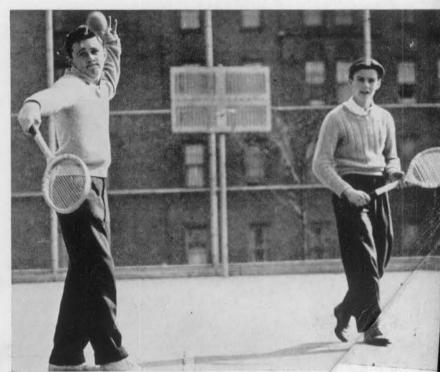

It is to be regretted that we are unable to print any results, but we, as all journals, have a dead-line. And the two don't mix—late results which take place after the date and a dead-line.

On another page will be found a schedule of the Varsity games.

It may not be amiss to say something about the Junior Varsity and Fresh-

McCabe and Cruickshank go through the motions. Veterans of the last campain the team may count on them to win their share of points in the doubles.

Coming up from last year's unior Varsity team Higgins by to play as the first doubles team of the Prep. In early practice sessi they can defeat the best that the Prep had to offer; later events may prove that most of the other teams can offer.

Biasi and Petri were lined up as a possible doubles combination in the preseason sessions. However, Petri proved himself as a singles player and is very likely to be a regular fixture at the Number Three slot. Biasi teamed up with Larson and will probably play as a member of the second doubles combine.

man squads. Among those who are—or at least, seem—sure of a berth on the J.V. are McCauley, O'Connell, Goddard and Murphy. If they live up to the promise which they showed last year as Freshmen, their's should be a most successful season. Here's hopin'.
