The History of Brooklyn Prep

Three noteworthy institutions have resided on Crow Hill, in Crown Heights, Brooklyn, the most famous being Brooklyn Preparatory High School. Previously, King's County Penitentiary occupied the area bounded by Rogers and Nostrand Avenues and by Carroll and Montgomery Streets; today, Medgar Evers College, of City University of New York, shares the city block with St. Ignatius Church and Loyola Hall.

Like Manhattan, Crow Hill was purchased from American Indians with the permission of Governor Francis Lovelace; however, this time, it was the Indians who swindled the colonists. In 1607 Peter Elmohar and Job and Shamese Makaquiquas, did not hold a title to the land which they sold for one hundred guilders, three long barrel rifles, four match coats, a half tun of strong beer and two half tuns of ordinary beer. They were Canarsie or Sachem Indians from Staten Island who had merely traveled to Brooklyn to hunt.

The property changed hands several times. Owners included Jacob Ryerson, Jeremiah Vanderbilt, Jacob Bergen, John Lefferts, Isaac Cortelyou and John Lott – names identified as amongst the first families of Brooklyn and later as names of prominent streets. In 1846 the Kings County Board of Supervisors purchased the site. The penitentiary and workhouse, where prisoners made shoes, was completed in 1848. Inmates, most memorable Polly Frisch, would exercise in the yard, which became the Prep's athletic field. The steel-barred basement windows and wall remain as the only reminders of the jail since the building was demolished in 1907. That year the site was sold to Bishop McDonnell, who subsequently sold it to the Society of Jesus.

In November 1907, plans were drawn up for the building of Brooklyn College and a two-year grammar school, preparatory school, and college, which would have encircled the entire block. However, these ambitious dreams were later scaled back due to World War I. The cornerstone of the original building, which faces Carroll Street and measures 40 x 200 feet, was put in place by Bishop McDonnell on April 24, 1908. On that occasion, with wishes of success from Pius X and President Roosevelt, the school was solemnly blessed by the Right Reverend Monsignor P. J. McNamara, Vicar General of the Diocese. The initial group of 226 students were greeted by the Reverend J. F. X. O'Connor, S.J., founder and first president, as follows: "...we wish to make you – Christian, educated gentlemen...Brooklyn Prep men are RICH – R is for Religion, I for Intellect, C for Character and H for Health.” The first commencement exercises were held on June 15, 1909. Tuition was $25.00 a quarter plus a $25.00 entrance fee.

For twenty years both college and prep students shared quarters, and faculty lived across the street at 1125 Carroll, Jogues’ House. Loyola Hall, facing Rogers Avenue, was built in 1915; and St. Ignatius Church was erected adjacent to it. A Prep grad, Felix P. McKenna, of the New York architect firm McKenna & Irving, designed and supervised the erection of the new faculty-house and high school wing extending toward Crown Street which were completed in 1929. The final expansion in 1959 added more classrooms, a cafeteria, gymnasium-auditorium and pool facing Crown Street.

The Prep has had three different legal names. The BC on the glass of the front door harkens back to the beginning when Prep was known as Brooklyn College and Preparatory School. In 1913 the college department ceased and the name was legally changed to Brooklyn Academy, although everyone referred to the school as Brooklyn Prep. Then in 1927, the 'Academy' title was dropped and 'Brooklyn Preparatory School' became the official title.

The saga of Brooklyn Prep's closing began in 1968 when a consolidation program was announced at a New York Provincial meeting of the Society of Jesus. Crippled by debt and a lack of vocations, the Society could no longer support nine high schools. Various options were proposed, such as having the Brooklyn Diocese take over operations at the Prep, or raising tuition from the current $850.00 (it had been just $450.00 in 1967) and making the school self-funded; until New York City expressed an interest in purchasing the building. The City University system was expanding due to its new open-enrollment policy. The sale for $2.75 million occurred in July, 1971 with the stipulation that the Prep would vacate the building by the following year. This phase-out program allowed the class of 1972 to graduate and the class of 1973 was given the option to accelerate and to graduate in 1972.

During its peak years the Prep numbered close to 1,000 students and 50 faculty members. More than 490 teachers and 9,300 graduates passed through the doors at 1150 Carroll Street from 1908 through 1972.

Today, the Brooklyn Prep Alumni Association keeps the memory of the Prep alive at their Annual Mass and Spring Dinner and on www.brooklynprep.org. The Association, through dues, contributions and special events, such as the Golf Classic, designates scholarship money for students in need of financial assistance to attend one of New York's remaining Jesuit High Schools.

Rev. John D. Alexander, S.J.

Fr. Jack is the reason we are celebrating the success of the Brooklyn Prep Alumni Association on the occasion of the Prep's 100th birthday. He served in a dedicated manner for 30 years, personally replying to all donations and correspondence. This thoughtful, personal touch is the single most important reason for our success.

Fr. Jack was born July 23, 1923 in Jersey City; he graduated from St. Peter's Prep. He was ordained June 19, 1954 by Cardinal Spellman at Fordham University. From 1956-1967 he taught English, Latin and Religion at Brooklyn Prep and served as Headmaster from 1967 until the school closed in 1972. Fr. Jack taught Religion at Xavier High School from 1973-1983 and became Moderator of the Brooklyn Prep Alumni Association in 1978. He currently is in residence at Fordham University.

Words are inadequate to express our thanks to this Jesuit who only thinks of others.

A MEMORIAL THAT WILL LIVE

After years of study and working, the final plans for the new wing of the Brooklyn Preparatory School have been completed. The new wing will be a memorial to the many who have given their lives for the school and the city.

The Brooklyn Preparatory Alumni Association

The Body and The Legacy

When the decision was made to close Brooklyn Preparatory High School it is fair to assume the question surfaced, “What will happen to the Alumni as a “Body” and the instilled Jesuit Tradition that had become an essential part of each of us?”

THE BODY

The response to that question led to the formation of the Brooklyn Preparatory Alumni Association (the Body). This organization would enable all graduates to maintain a fraternal brotherhood of fellow classmates, friends, and teachers, intertwined with our Jesuit Tradition. This entity would replace the loss of our school as the organization that would provide the forum for alumni events that normally emanate from a school.

Each of us would be invited to become a member of the Brooklyn Prep Alumni Association. A brotherhood was created whereby we could maintain a fraternal camaraderie with the people from whom we derived our friendships, our teachings, and our roots.

To qualify for membership, the primary pre-requisite was, simply stated, to be a bona-fide graduate of the school.

To provide structure and viability to our institution a charter was developed and a Board of Directors was formed to govern and control. The board would be composed of graduates supported by one of our Jesuit priests who would actively serve on the Board as moderator.

Lest we forget, the very idea of the Brooklyn Prep concept was first “seeded” and then opened by the Jesuits in 1908. For us, the Jesuit Tradition began at that point in time. The mark of that training and teaching remains with us today and must always be recognized and remembered.

The single, most dominant and meaningful tradition that has grown out of this entity has been the annual Mass and Spring Dinner. It provides the forum and means for the alumni to fulfill the primary purpose of our existence-fraternal camaraderie and spiritual experience. It has become the single most attended event offered by our association.

Conclusively, the essence of our original mission consists of spiritual connection to God via St. Ignatius and the fraternal camaraderie between classmates, teachers, and Jesuit traditions and influence. The Brooklyn Preparatory Alumni Association (The Body of members) and the annual Mass and Dinner are a manifestation of these objectives.

THE LEGACY

As the Association developed and matured there came a time when the Board of Directors searched for a goal that would enhance our purpose beyond the essential primary mission previously outlined. This goal would always have to coincide with the defined traditional primary mission of the BPAA. It should never transcend our original purpose.

Appropriately, The Scholarship Fund was created. Our organization decided to sponsor young boys and girls at our prep schools by way of scholarship. The Brooklyn Prep Scholarship Program required candidates to meet criteria based on financial need, their academic potential, and desire to earn this opportunity. They would join our Jesuit communities as young students and finally leave our Jesuit High Schools as young Catholics equipped with the same values and morals we experienced during our Jesuit exposures and training.

This goal has been realized and manifests itself in the three hundred plus students who have completed this journey. The Brooklyn Preparatory Association successfully created a goal that would benefit others in the tradition of our Jesuit training. It would be an extension of all that we were in the past and would continue towards the future. The Body of Members developed an additional, more meaningful purpose for the Brooklyn Preparatory Alumni Association with a long-term future.

However, the Board of Directors, under the watchful eye of the Investment Committee and our moderator, Fr. Jack Alexander, determined in the recent past that a major growing question had to be answered.

Joe Mannix, John Devlin and Tom Luzon

George Badolato, George Paterno and Fr. Jack Alexander

There would come a time when the “Body” would begin a pattern of population decline as the membership’s mortality becomes evident. This led to the question, “What can we do to insure the continuance of the program when the “Body” no longer exists?”

The Board of Directors created a “Trust” that would define the wishes of this association to continue the defined traditional scholarship program. The goal of several million dollars was established. It would serve as the long term funding support for this scholarship program. Subsequently, the sustaining sub-programs of Endowment and Bequests were introduced.

Today, our Board and the Investment Committee are entering the next phase of this program. From a business vantage point, the Long Term and Short Term ramifications of the “Trust” concept are being examined; due diligence is being performed on the methods and processes which will follow; legal language, insurance, and finally the future passing of the “Trust” management are all being examined.

These tasks are by no means small. They will require careful, tedious work, and patience to complete properly.

One important point to make at this time: this scholarship program is our contribution to the young students participating in the Jesuit Traditions. Yet, it also has produced a positive causal effect relationship. The financial challenges related to the Scholarship Program have produced the effect of renewed efforts for us to maintain our levels of membership of The Body. When you reflect on where we started, where we are, and where we are going, you begin to see that the goal is now inspiring us to maintain a pro-active, positive direction of the Brooklyn Preparatory Alumni Association.

The BPAA started the program for the students and now the program, as designed, is actually helping to “drive” us. God does work in strange ways. We are striving to protract and prolong the viability and productivity of BPAA to achieve our “spiritual gift of giving.”

When our numbers finally decline, the remaining, closing alumni will have this asset to manage and follow through to the final completion. However, the program will continue “Ad Infinitum” if we accomplish our goal properly. This will complete the evolutionary cycle. The Brooklyn Preparatory Alumni Association will have defined and installed The Legacy of our High School.

CONCLUSION

If we reflect on these thoughts it is rather simple and plain to understand. A group of students, teachers, and priests shared a common tradition of values and education offered by the Society of Jesus. Brooklyn Preparatory Alumni Association was formed as a structure in which the “BODY” of members could maintain its identity and purpose for being in the long term.

The “Body” developed a spirit of giving in the form of the Scholarship Fund. It was the result of the values and traditions learned during our school years. In God’s scheme of things, the very program to help young people enjoy the fruits of our efforts is now becoming a significant driving force towards our future for us as well.

The scholarship awards concept and goal is taking on the form and definition of The Legacy. It is becoming a part of the spiritual driving force of our association.

We should reflect on this very basic BPAA creation: The Body and the Legacy. We must re-dedicate ourselves to the fundamental original mission and purpose for our being and take the necessary steps to insure and ensure our goal. We must not be distracted from whom we are and what we are attempting to do.

John Sexton and Charlie Winans

At some time in the future, only the Legacy will remain. That legacy will consist of gifts of love to young students who will graduate from our Jesuit Traditional Schools, as did we. That will be the testimony to The Brooklyn Preparatory High School we all loved and cherished.

Remember the question, “What will happen to the Alumni as a Body and the instilled Jesuit Tradition that had become an essential part of each of us?”

It is within our control to remain basic and focused on what we have done; in what we are doing; and where we are going. It is our sincere intention and hope that, The Body and The Legacy, help answer that question.

The Reverend John D. Alexander, S.J. Brooklyn Prep Alumni Association Endowment

The endowment fund was established by the Board of Directors on December 6, 1999. The fund has grown in value from $826,000 in 1999 to $2,600,000 at 9/1/2008. From the inception of the BP Alumni Association in 1961, we have donated over $1,500,000 to Jesuit High Schools for needy students. During that time we have assisted over 300 students in attaining the same Jesuit education which we all cherish. Currently we are donating $25,000 each year to: Cansius High School, Fordham Prep, Loyola High School, McQuaid High School, St. Peter's Prep and Xavier High School. This is made possible by the generosity of the 4500 alumni on our mailing list.

Our Board of Directors is comprised of 14 members. The endowment fund is managed by Fidelity Investments under the supervision of our Treasurer and 5 members of the Investment Committee.

In 2006 the Board put in place a legal document which assures that our endowment will continue to function and support Jesuit education for needy students after our final alumnus has passed on.

Numbers alone are not the measure of the impact but the numbers are impressive. By my reckoning over $300,000 in financial aid has been distributed to students of Fordham Prep over the years. Dozens of boys have realized their dream of a quality Jesuit education through your generosity. Currently four seniors are beneficiaries of the BP largess. Whether from Westchester, the Bronx or Manhattan, they are univocal in saying that their dreams would not be possible without your help. One wants to be a of the communities are deep and have passed the test of time.

As I mentioned above, I look forward to joining you and the other members of the Brooklyn Prep Alumni Association at the centennial celebration in October. It should be a wonderful way of thanking you for strengthening the mission of Jesuit education, especially in our shared tradition of forming leaders of the future. I also look forward to strengthening the bonds that hold us together as Jesuits, former teachers, alumni and families. Again, it should be a great night!

Dear Fr. Alexander,

I have been told that I have been awarded the Brooklyn Prep Alumni Association Current Year Scholarship at Canisius High School as part of my financial aid package and that you are the benefactor who funded the scholarship. This award means a great deal to me because it gives the opportunity to attend one of the finest schools in the area. Thank you!

LETTERS FROM SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank you for supporting me over the past four years of my life here at Prep. Without your help it wouldn't have been possible for me to attend such a great institution. On behalf of all my family, a Happy Christmas to you and your families.

 have done - I have been doing well and studying my hard but I am not sure if I am doing it right - I am sure I am doing it right and I am sure I am doing it right scholarship I will have more time for studying for school .

I am honored to have it . As you may realize going to college is important to me . I plan to major in pharmacy . One of while he makes and having that word like he knows - then again he worked at the same - this year I worked as a secretary for the other one - I have those that for two years before - last year that in the same I was there (unclear) - then again I would like to thank you for the acknowledgment -

Heidi and I agree to take it all. Assume the rest of you'll be great at supporting us through the gratitude and appreciation in the ShredIt.org stories for the privilege of a team-education class at the Pitzer Press. You might not realize a true self and someone else I have been able to get the best out of each an important time in the life. As a person when we are beginning to get involved with the outside world, we grow our children to get my best one. Now we make sure the one has more awareness.

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank you for supporting me and the past three years of my life here in Reggio. It cannot ever be a mistake to have provided for me to attend such a great institution. On behalf of all my family, a Reggio Christmas to you and your families.

Dear Father Alexander and the Benedictine Prep Board:

As you may already know, I am a senior year old person who is having the best of his life at St. Peter's Prep. Prep has been great ever since first year. Not only is it getting more better. Through classes, sports, extracurricular activities and more time, I have been able to make the most of my time.

I am having a great and wonderful time being part of something special, thanks to you and your scholarship assistance. I am very grateful and will remember you in my prayers this holiday season.

Yours truly,
A Benedictine Christmas to all of you

Dear Father Alexander,

Thank you so much! Wonderful things. I am a senior year old student from Loyola. I would like to express my gratitude for what you have done for me.

have a web site, which showcases some of my artwork that is part of Loyola.

I want you to know that this letter does not do justice for what you have done for me. My mother is a single parent. She does everything for my brother, my sister and me all by herself. She works seven days a week and practically receives nothing from my father. She will receive nothing for my college education. So as you can see, every penny counts for my family. Honestly, without you I would not be able to attend Loyola. You have opened so many doors for me. Thank you so much. I dream of being very successful when I grow up and be a benefactor myself. I would sponsor more poor children, maybe set up a building for the homeless, and help a future Loyola student the way you have helped me.

Thank you so much again from the bottom of my heart. God bless. You will be in my prayers.

Dear Father Alexander and the Members of the Benedictine Prep Board Association,

I would like to begin this letter with my introduction about myself and my family. I am a senior year old student at St. Peter's Prep. My mother and her partner have raised me all the way of my life. My father passed away because of liver cancer. I am not grateful to my mother who I love her. She does everything for me. She is a single parent. She works seven days a week and practically receives nothing from my father. She will receive nothing for my college education. So as you can see, every penny counts for my family. Honestly, without you I would not be able to attend Loyola. You have opened so many doors for me. Thank you so much. I dream of being very successful when I grow up and be a benefactor myself. I would sponsor more poor children, maybe set up a building for the homeless, and help a future Loyola student the way you have helped me.

A Benedictine Christmas to you and your families.
